

WHEN the Institute of Pacific Relations was first broached in Honolulu, some three or four years ago, it had fair to be little more than a conference of Y. M. C. A. secretaries of the various countries. Naturally, it soon outgrew this plan, and by the time the first institute assembled in 1925 it was a really remarkable gathering of experts and leaders of thought and action in the Pacific region. It was, however, an experiment, with its way still to go, and it attracted comparatively little attention outside its immediate field.

There was no European representation, beyond one English gentleman who, because he happened to be going to Hawaii anyway, was asked perfunctorily to represent Britain. Plans were incomplete, programs had to be extemporized, and difficulties thrashed out as they arose. It was frankly an experiment.

Already this year, in the very membership, it is evident that the nations have given a new importance to this conference, with its unique plan of learning much and deciding nothing. The British have sent an imposing delegation, headed by Sir Frederick Whyte, former President of the National Indian Legislative Assembly, and Lionel Curtis, practically author of the constitutions of India, Ireland and South Africa. The Canadians have sent Sir Arthur Lurie, who commanded the Canadian forces during the war, and is now the president of their principal university—a sort of a combination, officially, of General Pershing and President Lowell. The Americans sent President Lowell, but the Sacco-Vanzetti case kept him at the last moment from coming. They have, however, at least three college presidents, and others of equal distinction. The Chinese and Japanese have an imposing group, of their most important men.

HAWAIIAN boosters are no different from others. They are congratulating "Jim" Doe, not for the generosity and fine spirit of his offer of a prize for a flight to Hawaii, to promote aviation, but on the good advertising this gives to the Hawaiian tourist and real estate business. They are likewise rejoicing that Kilauea volcano has broken out again, after some years of almost unprecedented quiet. Kilauea is a great natural phenomenon, and of the most spectacular sights on earth. Hawaii is justly proud of it. But the booster is interested only in the fact that it may bring a few more people, to buy his goods. In which Hawaii differs not a whit from California. The only difference is that we expect more idealism from the inhabitants of the idyllic isles.

SENATOR Owen, of Oklahoma, defines a Democrat as one who believes in freedom of speech, the press and religion, in equal rights and the principles of the Constitution; who is for both capital and labor, for a revenue tariff which will protect, but not establish monopoly, for economy with efficiency, and for a government responsive to the people and not controlled by self-seeking interests—meaning, of course, such of those interests as are not located in Oklahoma—and is against the Republican party, because he thinks that, in spite of the fact that most of its members subscribe to exactly these principles, it is so controlled.

In other words, a Democrat is a good American who votes for the candidates nominated by the Democratic primaries or convention. Likewise, a Republican is a good American who votes for the candidates for office nominated by the Republican primaries or convention. Both of them believe the same things, on the only questions the politicians dare mention, and both of them are on both sides of the only questions that count. The candidate whose election is the only function of the parties, want the votes of those who are on both sides of the only actual issues. Therefore, they say nothing about these. Virtuous platitudes are safer. Even on the once-controversial tariff question, the difference is one of emphasis. The Democrats proclaim that they believe in a revenue tariff, and explain that this means a protective tariff. The Republicans proclaim that they believe in a protective tariff, and explain that this means a revenue tariff. What they both mean is that they favor any tariff their respective constituents locally want, and that they will stand in on other local tariffs to whatever extent necessary to accomplish this. Otherwise, the only thing in Senator Owen's description of a Democrat which does not equally define a Republican is the announced determination to vote against the odious Republican party. Exchanging party names, this is the only difference between any

FOREMAN OF 1924 JURY CHAMBERLIN-ACOSTA AIRPLANE ENDURANCE RECORD IS BROKEN

German Flyers Remain In Air Over 52 Hours

(By United Press)

ESSAU, Germany, Aug. 5.—The airplane endurance record held by Clarence D. Chamberlin and Bert Acosta was broken today by the German aviators Risticz and Edzard in a Junkers plane.

When they landed at 10:13 a.m., they had been in the air 52 hours and 25 minutes, almost an hour and a quarter longer than the American flyers.

The plane met all tests, said a statement by the Junkers company, the builder, and has proved its ability to fly across the Atlantic ocean.

The flyers landed amidst scenes of tremendous enthusiasm. The lord mayor and other notables scarcely had spoken their congratulations to the airmen when the crowd seized the flyers and lifted them shoulder high.

All parts of Germany contributed today to the deluge of congratulations which began reaching the airdrome soon after the flyers alighted.

Chamberlin and Acosta were in the air 51 hours and 11 minutes. They began their flight on April 13 and came down two days later. Their course was lower Long Island. Their plane was the Bellanca monoplane, Columbia, in which Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine shortly thereafter flew to Germany, establishing a new distance record.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Clarence D. Chamberlin, transatlantic aviator, announced today he would attempt to recapture the airplane endurance record set by him and Bert Acosta and which was broken today by two German flyers.

"All I need is a ship," Chamberlin said. "A plane such as I used three months ago with Acosta can fly 60 to 70 hours without stopping."

"I saw some good ships in Germany, but not as good as those manufactured here."

TEMPLE AGREEMENT AWAIT SIGNATURES

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—What has been termed by their attorneys as a "50-50 property division" agreement was scheduled to be formally signed here today by Aimee Semple McPherson and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy.

Drafting of the agreement has been completed and counsel is now awaiting the signatures of the evangelist and "Mother" Kennedy, which are expected to be the final gesture in a bitter controversy between mother and daughter over control of Angelus Temple.

Mrs. McPherson announced today that the Rev. John Goben, of Des Moines, newly appointed chief field worker in the "Four Square Gospel Lightouses, Inc.", would leave here shortly for Chicago to stage a revival and raise money for the first Chicago "Lighthouse."

Goben's church, the Des Moines Gospel tabernacle, also will be turned into a "Lighthouse," Mrs. McPherson said.

Former District Attorney Alex P. Nelson was expected to testify today regarding conditions during his term of office, which ended January 1, this year.

Other witnesses yesterday and today included William Dovey, police Lieutenant from Long Beach; J. B. Handy, of Villa Park and Laguna Beach; Ole Buer, member of the state traffic squad in this county; Ernest McAlpine, a prisoner in the county jail, and O. A. Jacobs, Santa Ana attorney.

Griffin Airplane Is Down Near L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—Paul monoplane Oklahoma has been forced down in a fog somewhere in the vicinity of Los Angeles, according to a telephone report received at Clover field from Bennett Griffin, pilot of the Dole flight entry shortly before noon today.

Officials at Clover field said that Griffin reported that he was approximately seven miles from Los Angeles and expected to take off again if the fog permitted.

The Oklahoma took off early today from Amboy, Calif., where it was forced down yesterday by a fire in the exhaust stack, interrupting what had been a proposed non-stop flight from Bartlesville, Oklahoma, to Oakland.

OAKLAND, Aug. 5.—H. K. Axton, 23-year-old aviator, was almost instantly killed today when the left wing of his airplane crumpled while he was flying at 100 feet over Alameda airport. He was a student in the aero division of Stanford university and had completed the required 60 hours of flying.

SEABRIGHT, N. J., Aug. 5.—William T. Tilden II, America's leading hope in the coming Davis cup events, played superb tennis today when he defeated Francis T. Hunter, of New Rochelle, for the Seabright bowl. The scores were 6-4, 6-1, 8-0.

Crittenden Heads Water Commission

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 5.—Assemblyman Bradford S. Crittenden, of Tracy, was elected chairman of the new California state water conservation commission at its organization meeting held in the assembly rooms of the capitol today.

Assemblyman E. G. Adams was named temporary chairman.

Seven members of the committee were present, including Senators Ralph E. Swing, San Bernardino; H. C. Nelson, Eureka; Edwin A. Mueller, El Cajon; Assemblymen Van Bernard, Butte City; Bradford S. Crittenden, Tracy; Frank W. Mixter, Exeter, and E. G. Adams, Livingston.

SACCO-VANZETTI DEFENSE PLANS LAST-MINUTE FIGHT

Want Verdict Set Aside on Grounds New Evidence Is Available

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—With only five court days left before the date of execution, defense counsel in the Sacco-Vanzetti case today planned swift legal action to offset Governor Fuller's refusal of clemency in a last effort to save the condemned men from the electric chair.

The flyers landed amidst scenes of tremendous enthusiasm. The lord mayor and other notables scarcely had spoken their congratulations to the airmen when the crowd seized the flyers and lifted them shoulder high.

All parts of Germany contributed today to the deluge of congratulations which began reaching the airdrome soon after the flyers alighted.

Quotations in Sharp Drops As Selling Wave Gains Momentum

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Thousands of shares of stocks were dumped into the stock market in the closing hours of the exchange session today and prices went reeling as the volume of trading reached the highest peak of the year.

The word had gone out that business conditions did not warrant the high quotations of many stocks and investors and speculators elected to withdraw with their profits.

The total number of sales for the day was 2,986,600 shares. The ticker tape recording transactions continued unrolling for 24 minutes after the market closed at 3 p.m.

In that last hectic hour, with traders seeking to convert their paper profits made in the recent bull market into dollars, the total number of sales reached 3,842,900.

Strength had been displayed throughout the market in the early part of the session, but the wave of selling gained momentum and prices dropped sharply.

General Motors, which had run up to 230 7-8, a new record high, closed at 226 7-8, off point from the previous close, and U. S. steel sagged to 133 1-2 at the end of the day, off 21 1-4 pounds.

American Smelting lost 3 1-2, General Electric, 27-8, Houston oil, 73-8, Southern Pacific, 25-8, and Atchison, 13-8.

Buying earlier in the day had been based on the reduction in the rediscount rate of New York and Boston federal reserve banks to 3 1-2 per cent.

Tilden Conquers Hunter For Title

SEABRIGHT, N. J., Aug. 5.—William T. Tilden II, America's leading hope in the coming Davis cup events, played superb tennis today when he defeated Francis T. Hunter, of New Rochelle, for the Seabright bowl. The scores were 6-4, 6-1, 8-0.

Assemblyman E. G. Adams was named temporary chairman.

RUMORS THAT TEXAS MAYOR IS NEAR DEATH ARE DENIED

(By United Press)

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 5.—Rumors prevalent in San Antonio to the effect that Mayor John W. Tobin of that city is "dying in a San Diego hotel" were denied by his brother, Col. C. M. Tobin, today to be without foundation.

Mayor Tobin has rented a residence at 3036 James street, Loma Portal, an exclusive residential district of San Diego, and is living there with two sisters. "My brother is up and about the house every day, he plays bridge every evening almost, he drives daily in an automobile and goes to the theater at night whenever there is a good attraction here," Colonel Tobin stated.

This statement was confirmed from other sources.

Colonel Tobin came to San Diego several months ago, suffering from a digestive ailment. He spent some time in Scripps metabolic clinic at La Jolla near here, under care of specialists. His condition improved steadily and he was able to leave the clinic and take up his residence at Loma Portal. He plans to remain through the summer, believing the San Diego climate beneficial to him.

To Call Strike In Protest To Death Penalty

(By United Press)

PARIS, Aug. 5.—The Communist section of the General Federation of Labor today announced a 24-hour strike would be called on Monday to protest the Sacco-Vanzetti decision.

Squads of police and republican guards patrolled the working class districts and suburbs last night and today, ready to intervene in the event of disorderly manifestations. An immense police force has been placed around buildings where Communists from many countries were gathered.

Arthur D. Hill, newly appointed chief defense counsel, prepared to go before the Norfolk county court at Dedham and ask that the sentence of death and the verdict of guilty be set aside on the ground that new evidence was available.

A frequent cause of Moslem anger is the activity of Hindu musicians who march past mosques in defiance of the feeling of worshippers.

The new evidence includes affidavits alleging prejudice of state's witness.

Falling in that move, as the defense committee fears he will, Hill will switch to the federal courts for the first time during the seven-year legal fight and try to obtain from Federal Judge George W. Anderson a writ of habeas corpus.

If that, too, fails, only the U.S. supreme court stands between the condemned men and the chair in which, unless the unusual happens, they will die shortly after next Wednesday midnight.

JULIAN RESTITUTION DEADLINE REACHED

ROMA, Aug. 5.—Thousands of Italians, both Fascist and anti-Fascist, looked hopefully today for Premier Mussolini to make some dramatic gesture toward the President of the United States or the governor of Massachusetts in behalf of Sacco and Vanzetti.

They admitted they had nothing tangible on which to base their hopes. Rather, it was a hope born of despair, for most Italians have been thrown into deepest grief by Governor Fuller's decision.

The foreign office maintained silence and the newspapers, with one exception, refrained from comment. Even the Tribune's bitter denunciation of "the blackest judicial event that man can recall" was eliminated from later editions.

TWO INTERPRETATIONS

Two interpretations have been given the unexpected silence. One is that the government might wish to remain aloof on the grounds that the case is a domestic affair calling purely for American justice.

The other is that Mussolini, by not allowing bitterness to enter the case, such as would be created by heated press or official comments, is preparing the ground for an appeal to the American government, invoking American fairness, to prevent the double execution in the face of the pervading interest over the guilt of the condemned men.

There has been no violence or signs of violence in any part of Italy in spite of the gloom.

BASEBALL STANDINGS

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Babe Ruth hit his 35th home run of the season in the eighth inning of today's game with San Francisco to Sydney.

Ruth scored July 15 aboard the Tribes Tahiti, intending to return by way of Honolulu, the Fanning Islands, Samoa, Fiji, New Caledonia and Brisbane.

A deputation of former service men, who previously had been released by the government, called on Premier Lang today and he promised them the government not only would guarantee the $175,000 required to get Ruth into the air, but to pay any other expenses collected.

IRISH FARMERS FIND PROFIT IN CO-OPERATION

LONDON, Aug. 5.—American farmers have no monopoly of grievances. Their brethren in England are as bitter at fate and as determined that something shall be done about it as are the agriculturists in the United States.

Various plans have been suggested for giving the English farmer the relief that it is quite obvious he must have or sink. One has a precedent of great success in Ireland.

In Ireland agriculture has been in good shape since long before the war ended because of a plan worked out by experts, including Sir Horace Plunkett.

Prices Are Lower

This is called the Irish Agricultural organization society and was founded principally for the purpose of co-operative marketing and buying. Under the Irish plan the farmers get all their needed supplies in wholesale quantities by groups from 15 to 20 per cent under the retail price; each would have to pay for purchases in small quantities. For example, they save by co-operatively buying a trainload of fertilizer instead of a few bags. They then distribute the fertilizer among themselves with their own facilities and arrange to pay for it to their central organizations in accordance with perfectly planned rules.

In marketing, even of milk, gathering, transportation, delivery and financial collection costs are greatly reduced by collective effort.

Irish agriculture, for generations poverty stricken, became during the war, through the operation of this organization and not, as some thought, through profiteering, unprecedently prosperous.

Causes for Complaint

With a situation that gradually has permitted the farmers of Denmark, Sweden and Norway, and the dairymen of Holland, Germany and Ireland to take away a large part of the English business, much English land has been left idle and things have gone from bad to worse.

With high taxation and, in addition, the foot and mouth disease, which ravaged their live-stock for eight years and then was supposed to have been eradicated now reappearing, the English farmer has many causes for complaint.

Thousands of English agriculturists have given up all thought of cultivation on anything like an intensive scale and have put down most of their land to grass. The state of English agriculture labor is pitiful.

A member of the department of agriculture says:

"It is less legislation than common sense and full co-operation that the farmer needs. United marketing and bulk buying must come. The farmers of England have forgotten the lessons of Ireland and Denmark. They have not learned any lessons from other folks' experience and in America the farmers seem to be traveling a like road.

In Own Hands

They are asking for government assistance when their only possibility of help lies in their own hands.

The farmers of England and America will find this out, sooner or later, learning, as the farmers of Ireland and Scandinavia have learned, that they must depend upon their own intelligence rather than upon legislation.

"Scores of Irishmen found that agriculture was a simple matter as soon as business principles were applied to it. The Irish Agricultural Organization society is not socialism. It is no more socialist in fact than United States Steel is. It is a combination of farmers with a business sense."

NEGOTIATE FOR GROWERS' LOANS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—Negotiations between officials of the recently formed California Prune Producers' association and prominent bankers, whereby the banks would advance loans to pay the prune growers when they deliver their product, are under way.

The officials visited leading bankers of the city and presented their proposals.

They seek bank loans which will be up to 65 per cent of the value of the prune crop so they can pay the growers 60 per cent of their crop value when they make delivery.

The campaign to sign new members to the association still is under way throughout the state.

Find Difference In Modern Girls

OAKLAND, Aug. 5.—There's a difference of opinion among delegates to the convention of the Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs as to the reasons for bachelors of both sexes. Says Miss Mary Zapp of Pocatello, Idaho: "The modern girl seldom finds a man who meets with her approval as a companion and who still earns as much as she does." And Mrs. Elva Wilcox of New Jersey answers, "It is all a question of romance, which some never find."

KNOWS 15,000 CONVICTS
SAN ANGELO, Tex., Aug. 5.—For 14 years, "Uncle Bud" Russell has been an employee at the Texas penitentiary. He has handled more than 30,000 prisoners and knows the faces of more than half of them. Because of his famous "photographic mind," he has been sent after convicts in every state in the union and even to Europe.

Suicide Attempt Is Unsuccessful

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—A woman identified by police as Mrs. Mabel M. Schiffman, estranged wife of Rudolph Schiffman, millionaire medicine manufacturer of St. Paul, Minn., was recovering in the Emergency hospital here today from a dose of poison.

According to police, Mrs. Schiffman gave her name as Mrs. Anna Belle Gorman, when she was brought to the hospital after taking poison tablets. Later she admitted her identity, police and hospital attachés said, and this later was confirmed by relatives.

Following a recent suit against her husband, now living in Pasadena for separate maintenance, Mrs. Schiffman received an award valued at $5,000,000 in her husband's business interest.

Surgeons reported she was out of danger.

MAHARAJAH SINGH WEDS AT KASHMIR

KARACHI, British India, Aug. 5.—Maharajah Sir Hari Singh, defrauded dupe in the notorious "Mr. A." case which alternately amused and disgusted London in 1924, was quietly married last night in Kashmir.

The identity of the maharajah's bride has not been divulged today. The wedding was attended by the British resident, the Yuvaraj of Lumdi and several ministers of state.

Sir Hari is reputed to be worth $60,000,000 with a revenue from the throne which he inherited from his uncle of more than $5,000,000 a year.

His first wife was the daughter of the Maharajah of Dharavore. They were married in 1923 just a year before Sir Hari was revealed to the world as the hero of an illicit romance that ended in blackmail.

INJUNCTION SOUGHT TO STOP BIG FIGHT

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—An injunction, seeking to prevent the Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney heavyweight championship bout here September 22, will be sought within the next few days, according to Ralph Rosen, attorney for B. E. Clements, matchmaker of the Coliseum club here.

The injunction will seek to enjoin Dempsey to fulfil his contract with Clements, calling for a bout here with Harry Wills, Rosen said.

Clements already holds one injunction against Dempsey over the Wills contract. It was issued in Marion, Ind., from where Clements took it to Philadelphia seeking to stop the bout there.

He arrived but one day before the battle, however, and the courts refused to act on it at that late date.

Noted Film Couple May Be Reconciled

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 5.—The difference between Kenneth Harlan and Marie Prevost, screen stars, may be adjusted after the former's return from a trip to Hawaii; friends of the couple reported here today.

The pair separated several weeks ago and since that time repeated attempts have been made by Harlan to effect a reconciliation with his wife, who moved to the Ambassador hotel following the marital rift, it was learned.

Harlan plans to leave here Saturday on the S. S. Calawail and upon his return from Honolulu another attempt to reconcile their differences will be made, it was learned.

Neither would make a statement.

Redfern In First Hop Of Rio Flight

FORD AIRPORT, Dearborn, Mich., Aug. 5.—Paul Redfern, diminutive Savannah flyer, left the Ford airport today for Glynn Isle, Ga., to start a non-stop solo flight to Rio de Janeiro, a distance of more than 4200 miles.

If the Rio flight is successful it will be the longest ever made.

Redfern was accompanied on the flight to Glynn Isle by Eddie Stinson, designer and builder of his metal monoplane, "The Port Brunswick." The trip will be made without stopping, they said.

Life Of Ease Is Brought To End

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—A life of ease for a "model husband" has ended.

Vincenzio Barbaro, 31 years old, obtained a written promise from his bride that she would earn money enough to support him and her two children and also do the housework. A year passed. Mrs. Barbaro became ill and had to quit work in a factory. Then she was said in court, he hit her and she had him arrested. "But," she explained regarding the situation up till the blow, "he was a model husband. He did not drink or smoke. He never stayed out late and he was no bother."

Republican and Senator Owen. A Democrat is one who votes to put the nominees of the Democratic nominating machinery in office. A Republican is one who does likewise by the nominees of the Republican nominating apparatus. That is all. And, if they will so vote, that is to the politicians, quite enough.

BEAN CUTTING TO BE STARTED ON SATURDAY

Preliminary cutting of blackeye beans on the Irvine ranch will start tomorrow, a statement from the ranch said today. The main work of harvesting the crop on 5000 acres will not start, however, until next Friday.

The yield is expected to be about as heavy as last year's, although the warm weather of a few weeks ago has brought about a small reduction in the crop. The loss will not be as heavy as was expected it was announced, but may run as high as a sack to the acre.

The early supply of beans may be expected to bring four and a half cents a pound, it was declared, and a price of four cents will probably hold up throughout the season.

With lower prices on the majority of commodities, it cannot be expected that beans this year will command quite the price they received last season. A slight holdover from last year's crop is also expected to have an effect on the price.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lake and daughter, Miss Gertrude Lake, are spending July and August with Mr. Lake's sisters, Mrs. Mattson and Mrs. Maloney, and niece, Miss Puterbaugh, of 612 North Olive street.

Both families have just returned from an enjoyable trip to Yosemite and Sequoia parks. Mr. Lake and family have made several trips through the southland since their arrival and are delighted with what they have seen. Mr. Lake is with the Bethlehem Steel corporation, and Miss Lake is supervisor of art in the Johnstown schools.

Bob is found and "Wag" and he are both happy. Bob is the big, black dog lost by Wag (Roxy Oliver) while here on a visit with his mother, Mrs. Kenneth D. Oliver of Berkeley at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Delmeling.

Bob was found after the story of his loss appeared in The Register. It was reported by many persons that a dog answering Bob's description had been seen at the Log Cabin, between here and Anaheim. His anxious little master and friends called there, but Bob was gone. Then a young lady who had read about the dog, saw him while passing through Anaheim, in the rear of an ice cream cone place, and brought him home to Wag. Bob greeted his pal with howls of joy and seemed endeavoring in his own way to tell the story of his grief at being separated from his companion for the first time in 10 years.

He admits frankly that he has dedicated his life to his beard and his beard to the motion pictures in return for a fat living. He admits just as frankly that "there are people who would cut off my beard, hence I never sleep on the film sets and at night I never go to bed without first making sure all the doors and windows are locked."

Tollaire rents himself and his beard out for parts on the silver screen that require dignity and chin grandeur.

He denied the report that he gave his whiskers a daily drink of milk.

"That," he said gravely, "is not quite true. I wash by beard each weekday in soap and water and on Sundays in milk."

"A beard like mine is as much strength as a child. I must spend at least two hours a day combing it, washing it and keeping it properly trained."

"I have turned down offers for work in screen comedies many times because it was wished that my beard be cut for a joke. Who ever could see something funny in that also could see man in cutting one's throat."

Thousands At Band Concert In Birch Park

Rapidly becoming the Mecca where thousands of Orange county music lovers pay weekly tribute of admiration to the Santa Ana Municipal band with its energetic director, D. C. Clanton, Birch park again made a picturesque setting last evening for a program replete with interesting and unusual musical effects.

Animated, brimming with military fervor and rousing drum effects, the martial rhythm of Fillmore's March "More Fraternity," made effective opening.

It was followed by one of the feature numbers, Rossini's Overture from "La Gazza Ladra" (The Magpie). Brilliant, well-accented melody with the opening measures contrasted delightfully with light gaiety and rapidity of an admirably shaded crescendo. Definite contrasts marked the second movement, soft pianissimo breaking into spontaneous, rippling bursts of flashing melody, expressive of Rossini's joy of living that permeates this number, gleaming out in humorous vivacity and never-failing motion.

The noteworthy and satisfying presentation of this masterpiece, with its careful attentiveness to detail, and splendid display of vigorous technic and dramatic instinct, explain the striking and unique success which continues to mark the work of Director Clanton and his musicians. The ensemble work of the instruments displayed remarkably perfect control and harmony, being recognized by the audience with decided applause and appreciation.

Wely's Nocturne, "Monastery Bells," long a favorite, was truly a thing of beauty. Its soft drifting melody with echoing chimes full of sweet spirituality. Its sacred serenity contrasted effectively with the well-blended and multi-colored moods of Mussio's "Gems from Grand Operas," a number where Director Clanton aptly proved his versatility and range of technique. Ever-changing effects made this number especially compelling, dreamy, haunting pathos broken by powerful and vigorous gaiety, dazzling bits of melody modulated into sonorous dignity, again chasing into a finale of fire and abandonment.

Well-adapted for the out-door setting, the Lions' club male quartet, featuring Lyle Anderson, Bruce Monroe, Fred Wilder and Dr. E. H. Rowland, was received enthusiastically. Their happy selection of the Southern favorite, "Kentucky's Way of Saying Good Morning" as well as the encore "On the Way to Monterey" were most pleasing, and their work a credit to their popular service club, whose members, together with those of other service organizations, were honored guests of the evening.

Displaying Director Clanton's splendid versatility as a musician, his trombone solo, Ardit's waltz song "The Kiss," sympathetically accompanied by the band, was ap- pleted with grace and fairy-like lightness, and followed by the silvery sweetness of "Silver Threads Among the Gold," wistfully tugging at the heartstrings, with reminiscence of by-gone days.

Again urging necessity of quiet and courtesy on the part of the audience, Harry Hanson, president of the band, briefly outlined next week's program, featuring among other numbers, the Mignon Overture, selections from Gounod's "Faust" also from Victor Herbert, a solo by Robert Brown, local baritone, and one of Director Clanton's own compositions.

Long and lovely, the dreamily seductive strains of Verdi's "Il Trovatore" was replete with exquisitely shaded tone-coloring.

Forceful, spirited crescendos rapidly drifted into the tragic solemnity of the "Miserere," closing with the director's trombone solo, "Oh I Have Signed to Rest Me." Its fullness of emotional feeling and passion deeply stirring the audience.

The marked originality and many humorous touches of Director Clanton's own composition "Village Life" concluded the program in a novel and interesting manner, with its strikingly varied contrasts and realistic imagery. Rapidly shifting musical effects ended in a finale of powerful vigor and tremendous force and energy, giving ample proof of its composer's skill.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 5.—"Be yourself!" says Connie Talmadge.

"So many persons seem anxious to convince the world that they

play a pretty serious role in life."

"They like to give the impression that, at heart, they are really profound and full of deep thoughts if only the rest of humanity would take the trouble to understand them."

Miss Talmadge won't admit it—but she is probably referring to her fellow screen players somewhere in the neighborhood of 75 per cent of them are just such declares the blond comedienne.

"Playing serious isn't my way."

remarks the actress. "I believe in laughter and the joy of living. I'm positive that the very best thing in the world is to make other people laugh. It's not easy but it is wonderful when you succeed."

"I have been doing it all my life—kidding, laughing and trying to make others laugh with me."

Ever since the days when Norma, Natalie and I grew up in the little wooden frame house in Brooklyn, I have been the family joker, and I'm glad of it."

Connie makes no pretense about being among the lofty intellectuals. She would rather dance than read a book—and admits it. The fact that she injects life into an endless string of parties proves that she never tires of them.

"People tell me that I should use my spare time more seriously than I do," she says. "They try to incite me to study psycho-analysis or something equally dull. I'd rather play. Leave the seriousness in our family to Norma, because she is naturally that way."

"The movies offer a good example of human tendencies, especially among women. As soon as a girl begins to get somewhere playing in comedies, she immediately dashes off into drama. I have watched dozens of girls do just that very thing."

"And comedies are really more difficult to play than dramas. In comedy, the slightest over-emphasis turns a situation into a burlesque and it is ruined."

"But whether a person is in pictures or some other walk of life, he or she, should fight down the urge to act at all times. If you are naturally of a serious temperament, be serious; if not, be funny."

GERMAINE PURCHASES NEW FINERY FOR BIARRITZ TRIP

Following is another of the interesting letters written by German, sprightly French girl, to her cousin in the United States. These letters contain many interesting items regarding trends in fashions in the French capital and famous resorts in Europe.

PARIS, Aug. 5, 1927.

Dear Cousin: I want to tell you about my latest temptations. I hope you will agree with me that my yielding to them was justified. First, my new hat.

It is exactly like a fell in shape and treatment, just as soft and just as careless, with a brim that is down in front and up at the sides and back but it is made of the most soft and pliable velvet. In front is a rhinestone ornament that I like very much and the crown takes deliciously casual folds. It exactly matches the beige in a blue and beige checked taffeta coat I have.

Innocent Chiffon

Then it occurred to me that for Biarritz I had not enough chiffon dance frocks—no one else seemed to have noticed it, but I did.

It was just at the most acute moment of realization that I stumbled upon a shell pink chiffon dress, as simple as human hands could make it—but quite disarmingly lovely. The blouse is sleeveless, with an easy round neck line. The skirt is very full and scalloped, and trimmed in each scallop with a ring of shirred chiffon.

Cerise Coat

Nothing could sound less calculated to excite the emotion but the combination of innocent pink and artless simplicity produce a most devastating loveliness. I figured that with a few pearls about my neck I would be quite an interesting person—to myself, at least.

Aunt Louise recently has gone in for a little heavy purchasing, and I must say she has bought well. You should see her in a very simple Patou frock of white satin, with a coat of cerise colored velvet—this transparent velvet that is no heavier than chiffon. I have said so much about the coat that she is about to get one for me in green, which would be a welcome addition to my wardrobe.

She also has a perfectly ravishing black gown from Louiseboulangier with panels of white ostrich feathers that trail off into space. To accompany this is a wrap of black velvet, also of the very soft transparent variety, which is quite ample with a bow on the shoulder that is positively inspired.

In the opinion of the writer, there is every justification for the citizens of Las Vegas to attempt the accomplishment of a cultural program which will be unique, distinctive and characteristic of the wholesome, vigorous Americanism which so plainly marks its type of citizenship. One is inclined to wonder, in the light of indisputable tendencies in certain great centers of our national population toward physical, moral and civic degeneration, whether, in addition to what may easily be regarded as an opportunity and a privilege, there is not present also a real duty to perform in this direction. The very life of our nation might be leavened and enriched through the ultimate influence of such an ideal effort here in the very heart of our wonderful West."

Copper and Beige

Agnes is making some very interesting sport hats of two shades of gros grain ribbon that are very much liked here. In black and white they are particularly stunning, though the model that I wanted was in copper and beige. It would have been divine on an auburn-haired woman.

Have you seen the marvelous new sport shoes of natural-colored linen or white pique? And have you seen the slippers of printed silk? Each has lured me away from my conservative taste in footwear.

Yellow-black Idea

You know how easily I fall for a really lovely tailleur? Well, imagine how bowled over I was by a delightful model of black marocain with a belted jacket cut with a surprised opening, and a chic little blouse of yellow crepe. This winter I shall play with that dead black and brilliant yellow idea. It's a good one, I know.

We leave next week for Biarritz, and I shall tell you all. Lovingly, GERMAINE.

WINTER MATERIALS

Sheer wools in materials that seem like wool georgettes and crepes in rich shades, will be good for winter frocks.

BANISHED FELTS

London has all but banished felts for hot weather wear. Smart gatherings reveal grosgrain turbans or wide-brimmed straws.

SILVER JEWELRY

Silver Jewelry is in the ascendancy as very smart for evening wear with white gowns. Many white chifffons use silver trimming prints.

A smart coat dress for early autumn is printed rust velvet with its design of small figures resembling seasonal old English prints.

EVENING BAG

A zipper evening bag of black satin has silver soutache braid applied in all-over fan design. A pearl ring with silver tassels close it.

LONGER JUMPER

Bridge and Shower Are Held in Honor of Miss Docherty

Miss Beth Docherty, lovely Canadian girl, who will become the bride of Franklin West, prominent young lawyer in this city, was complimented Wednesday night at a bridge shower given for her by Mrs. Fred Wilde and Miss Janet at the latter's home at 825 French street.

Soon after her arrival at the Wilde home, Miss Docherty was surprised at the sight of tiny Miss Janet Wilde, 2 year old daughter of Mrs. Fred Wilde, approaching with an express wagon filled with gifts for the bride-elect. Miss Janet was dressed for the occasion in a miniature messenger boy's uniform. Included among the many pretty gifts were linens, silver and glassware.

Bridge offered a pleasant diversion throughout the evening, ending with Miss Edith Gallap scoring high, Miss Mable Wiseman, second, and Miss Effie White, low. Each was presented with a dainty award.

Yellow flowers had been used throughout the living rooms and the same color was carried out in table appointments when the delicious two course supper was served.

Guests were Miss Docherty, Miss Edith Gallap, Miss Mable Wiseman, Miss Jessie Kellough, Mrs. Vernon Cruzan, Mrs. Roy Keeler, Mrs. Ed. Holmes, Mrs. J. W. Murray, Mrs. Basil Smith, Miss Lenabelle Hughes, Miss Effie White, Miss Helen Craemer.

Placentia Girl Hostess At Pretty Bridge Party

Miss Lucia Sweeten, Fullerton city nurse, was honor guest Tuesday night at a delightfully appointed bridge party given by Miss Dorothy Abbott of Placentia in recognition of the former's birthday anniversary.

Miss Abbott was assisted in receiving her guests by her mother, Mrs. Sula D. Abbott who also aided her later in the evening when the dainty refreshments including a large birthday cake were served.

When bridge scores were added it was found that Miss Carrie Adams had scored high, Miss Lois Cooper, second, and Miss Lucia Sweeten, low. Each was awarded a pretty gift.

Guests included Miss Frances Schallis, Miss Elsa Raffi, Miss Geneva Leach, Miss Clara Schumacher, all of Placentia, and Miss Grace Wicks, Miss Lois Cooper, Miss Carrie Adams, Miss Helen Neely, Miss Lucia Sweeten, Miss Charlotte Gobar, Miss Revie Hawkins, and Mrs. Elizabeth Rauber of Fullerton.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

SPURGEON MEMORIAL
The delightful shade of a beautiful pecan tree in the yard of Mrs. M. H. Morrison of 1120 East Washington avenue made a delightful setting for a picnic dinner enjoyed by about 40 members of the Spurgeon Memorial church mission society.

Mrs. Morrison invited the ladies to meet with her in her beautiful new home for their regular all-day meeting.

Coming together in the cozy living rooms at ten o'clock Mrs. A. J. Jones led the prayer circle and Bible study for the first hour. Mrs. W. R. Fine gave the mission study from the book "Our Templed Hills" by Ralph A. Felton. At 12 o'clock the ladies adjourned to the yard where the tables were spread and a sumptuous dinner was served.

During the noon intermission the ladies presented Mrs. Morrison with numerous useful and beautiful gifts to be used in her new home.

Mrs. Lewis Miller conducted the afternoon devotions after which Mrs. Henry Donan, president, called the business meeting of the society. The business session completed, Miss Linda Paul, led a lively discussion on "The Changing Currents of Mexico."

The members lingered until late in the afternoon all enjoying the gracious hospitality of Mrs. Morrison.

LIGHT BEARERS

A happy group of children and their mothers gathered recently at the First Methodist church to celebrate the annual mite box offering with a Little Light Bearers party.

The program which followed a half hour of lively games supervised by Miss Justina Palmer and Miss Rowena Newcomb was a charming presentation of songs, recitations and stories all given by the little folk. The program concluded with the opening of the mite boxes.

Each year a special honor of a life membership in the Little Light Bearers' society is awarded the child turning in the biggest offering. This year the honor was accorded little Virginia Irvine, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Irvine. Miss Virginia was the youngest child present.

Refreshments dear to the heart of childhood were served the children who were seated at small tables each centered with lovely flowers.

MONEY NEEDED FOR SURVEY OF S.A. WATERSHED

In a statement issued by Francis Cuttle of Riverside, president of the Tri-Counties Reforestation association, he points out the necessity for the counties of San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange to co-operate with the state by appropriating $40,000 to meet the state appropriation of like amount for completion of the survey of the Santa Ana river watershed, already partly completed with money provided by state appropriation of 1925 ($25,000) and like amount appropriated by the three counties.

The Water Conservation association has filed on 250,000 acre feet of water for conservation purposes. This filing is being extended from time to time on the claim that we are not prepared to begin construction until the survey and plan are completed. Should work on the survey be unnecessarily delayed or discontinued our filing would lapse and our priority be lost.

During the past season 100,000 acre feet of water (information from U. S. G. S. and Mr. W. W. Hoy, engineer of Santa Ana) were lost in the Pacific ocean, while 14,418 acre feet were conserved by sinking in gravel on the property of the Water Conservation association. The reason for the large amount lost in proportion to that saved was that the rainfall was so heavy at times as to bring down large quantities of silt, so that turning water onto the grounds of the association would have done more harm than good, by silting up the gravel so that it would not absorb water.

The construction of an equalizing dam or dams in the upper stretches of the river would serve the double purpose of desilting the water so that it could be conserved, and also prevent flood damage, such as occurred during the past season.

It would be folly to begin construction work on a large scale until the survey and plans, which are now being worked out, are completed.

An appropriation of $40,000 was secured from the last legislature by the passage of Senator Swing's Bill No. 888. We have authority from the State Board of Control to the effect that it will be agreeable to the state for the counties to meet one-half of this appropriation at this time, the balance to remain in abeyance until it is determined whether it will be necessary to use the second half of the appropriation for completing the survey or for construction work.

Artistic Blanks Convey Message On German Ships

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—Tourists on German liners, to whom friends or relatives send wireless congratulations, are now handing these messages on artistic blanks especially devised for this purpose.

At the head of the blanks there is a lithograph of a Brandenburgian frigate from the seventeenth century with all sails set. In the corners are teh coats of arms of the large German steamship companies. At the top of the sheet is printed in Medieval German, "Gode Winte, Glatte See" (favorable breeze, smooth sea). The design is by Carl Prinz, a Berlin artist.

Prince Of Wales Is Globe Trotter

QUEBEC, Aug. 5.—Two complete tours of the world, with other trips to various remote sections of interest, have been taken by the Prince of Wales since he took up seriously his preparation for one day ruling Great Britain.

Among his more important trips were:

A visit to India in the winter of 1921-22.

A visit to Australia, Japan and China in 1922.

A visit to his Canadian ranch and also the United States in 1923 and 1924.

A trip to South America in 1925, and later a trip to Africa.

Thousands At Band Concert In Birch Park

Rapidly becoming the Mecca where thousands of Orange county music lovers pay weekly tribute of admiration to the Santa Ana Municipal band with its energetic director, D. C. Cianfoni, Birch park again made a picturesque setting last evening for a program replete with interesting and unusual musical effects.

Animated, brimming with military fervor and rousing drum effects, the martial rhythm of Fillmore's March "More Fraternity," made effective opening.

It was followed by one of the feature numbers Rossini's Overture from "La Gazza Ladra" (The Magpie). Brilliant, well-accented melody of the opening measures contrasted delightfully with light gaiety and rapidity of an admirably shaded crescendo. Definite contrasts marked the second movement, soft pianissimo breaking into spontaneous rippling bursts of flashing melody, expressive of Rossini's joy of living that permeates this number, gleaming out in human vivacity and never-falling motion.

The noteworthy and satisfying presentation of this masterpiece, with its careful attention to detail, an splendid display of vigorous technic and dramatic instinct, explain the striking and unique success which continues to mark the work of Director Cianfoni and his musicians. The ensemble work of the instruments displayed remarkably perfect control and harmony, being recognized by the audience with decided applause and appreciation.

Wiley's Nocturne, "Monastery Bells," long a favorite, was truly a thing of beauty. Its soft drifting melody with echoing chimes full of sweet spirituality. Its sacred serenity contrasted effectively with the well-blended and multi-colored moods of Mause's "Gems from Grand Operas," a number where Director Cianfoni aptly proved his versatility and range of technique. Ever-changing effects made this number especially compelling, dreamy, haunting pathos broken by powerful and vigorous gaiety, dazzling bits of melody modulated into sonorous dignity, again changing into a finale of fire and abandonment.

Well-adapted for the outdoor setting, the Lions' club male quartet, featuring Lyle Anderson, Bruce Monroe, Fred Wilde and Dr. E. H. Rowland, was received enthusiastically. Their happy selection of the Southern favorite, "Kentucky's Way of Saying Good Morning" as well as the encore "On the Way to Monterrey" were most pleasing, and their work a credit to their popular service club, whose members, together with those of other service organizations, were honored guests of the evening.

Displaying Director Cianfoni's splendid versatility as a musician, his trombone solo, Arditi's waltz song "The Kiss," sympathetically accompanied by the band, was appealing with grace and fairy-like lightness, and followed by the silvery sweetness of "Silver Threads Among the Gold," wistfully tugging at the heartstrings, with reminiscence of by-gone days.

Again urging necessity of quiet and courtesy on the part of the audience, Harry Hanson, president of the band, briefly outlined next week's program, featuring among other numbers, the Mignon Overture, selections from Gounod's "Faust," also from Victor Herbert, a solo by Robert Brown, local bartone, and one of Director Cianfoni's own compositions.

Long a favorite, the dreamily seductive strains of Verdi's "Il Trovatore" was replete with exquisitely shaded tone-coloring. Forceful, spirited crescendos rapidly drifted into the tragic solemnity of the "Miserere," closing with the director's trombone solo, "Oh I Have Sighed to Rest Me." Its fullness of emotional feeling and passion deeply stirring the audience.

The marked originality and many humorous touches of Director Cianfoni's own composition "Village Life" concluded the program in a novel and interesting manner, with its strikingly varied contrasts and realistic imagery. Rapidly shifting musical effects ended in a finale of powerful vigor and tremendous force and energy, giving ample proof of its composer's skill.

Let us figure it out for you.

These Movie People

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 5.—"Be yourself," says Connie Talmadge.

"So many persons seem anxious to convince the world that they

play a pretty serious role in life."

"They like to give the impression that, at heart, they are really profound and full of deep thoughts if only the rest of humanity would take the trouble to understand them."

Miss Talmadge won't admit it—but she is probably referring to her fellow screen players. Somewhere in the neighborhood of 75 per cent of them are just such declares the blond comedienne.

"Playing serious isn't my way."

remarks the actress. "I believe in laughter and the joy of living. I'm positive that the very best thing in the world is to make other people laugh. It's not easy but is wonderful when you succeed."

"I have been doing it all my life—kidding, laughing and trying to make others laugh with me. Ever since the days when Norma, Natalie and I grew up in the little wooden frame house in Brooklyn, I have been the family joker, and I'm glad of it."

Connie makes no pretense about being among the lofty intellectuals. She would rather dance than read a book—and admits it. The fact that she injects life into an endless string of parties proves that she never tires of them.

"People tell me that I should use my spare time more seriously than I do," she says. "They try to incite me to study psycho-analysis or something equally dull. I'd rather play. Leave the seriousness in our family to Norma, because she is naturally that way."

"The movies offer a good example of human tendencies, especially among women. As soon as a girl begins to get somewhere playing in comedies, she immediately dashes off into drama. I have watched dozens of girls do just that very thing."

"And comedies are really more difficult to play than dramas. In comedy, the slightest over-emphasis turns a situation into a burlesque and it is ruined."

"But whether a person is in pictures or some other walk of life, he or she, should fight down the urge to act at all times. If you are naturally of a serious temperament, be serious; if not, be funny."

GERMAINE PURCHASES NEW
FINERY FOR BIARRITZ TRIP

Following is another of the interesting letters written by German, sprightly French girl, to her cousin in the United States. These letters contain many interesting items regarding trends in fashions in the French capital and famous resorts in Europe.

PARIS, Aug. 5, 1927.

Dear Cousin: I want to tell you about my latest temptations. I hope you will agree with me that my yielding to them was justified. First, my new hat.

It is exactly like a felt in shape and treatment, just as soft and just as carefree, with a brim that is down in front and up at the sides and back, but it is made of the most soft and pliable velvet. In front is a rhinestone ornament that I like very much and the crown takes deliciously casual folds. It exactly matches the beige in a blue and beige checked taffeta coat I have.

Innocent Chiffon Then it occurred to me that for Biarritz I had not enough chiffon dance frocks—no one else seemed to have noticed it, but I did.

It was just at the most acute moment of realization that I stumbled upon a shell pink chiffon dress, as simple as human hands could make it—but quite disarmingly lovely. The blouse is sleeveless, with an easy round neck line. The skirt is very full and scalloped, and trimmed in each scallop with a ring of shirred chiffon.

Cerise Coat

Nothing could sound less calculated to excite the emotion, but the combination of innocent pink and artless simplicity produce a most devastating loveliness. I figured that with a few pearls about my neck I would be quite an interesting person—to myself, at least.

The idea should challenge our interest and support, if only for what its success can mean to the present generation. Someone has most truly said that what we know, we owe. Progress goes forward upon the feet of little children. It is our highest duty to give the best we know to those who will carry it on to prosperity. Our most dearly bought possessions are those of the mind and spirit, and hence the greater obligation upon our part to see that these are passed on to those who follow us.

The unsurpassed advantages, climate, scenic, historic and otherwise, with which this particular city and section are endowed, lays upon the citizens a further obligation to make these known to the outside world and to endeavor to create yet finer values and advantages which will constitute an irresistible appeal to those who seek ideal living conditions, spiritual, as well as material.

"Such a project as this Chautauqua cannot but reinforce and helpfully supplement the already well-established and successful educational resources which Las Vegas enjoys in its State Normal and its Montezuma college. Many mutual advantages would inevitably follow the linking up of this movement to those institutions, to the public schools, and to the church and club life of the community. New standards, new ideas and ideals, new incentive and red-blooded activity are necessary to the growth of every town and city, as they are to every individual. Whenever and wherever art, education and business joins hands the result is complete prosperity.

In the opinion of the writer, there is every justification for the citizens of Las Vegas to attempt the accomplishment of a cultural program which will be unique, distinctive and characteristic of the wholesome, vigorous Americanism which so plainly marks its type of citizenship. One is inclined to wonder, in the light of indisputable tendencies in certain great centers of our national population toward physical, moral and civic degeneration, whether, in addition to what may easily be regarded as an opportunity and a privilege, there is not present also a real duty to perform in this direction. The very life of our nation might be leavened and enriched through the ultimate influence of such an ideal effort here in the very heart of our wonderful West."

Yellow-black Idea

You know how easily I fall for a really lovely tailleur? Well, imagine how bowled over I was by a delightful model of black marocain with a belted jacket cut out with a surprise opening, and a chic little blouse of yellow crepe. This winter I shall play with that dead black and brilliant yellow idea. It's a good one, I know.

We leave next week for Biarritz, and I shall tell you all. Lovingly, GERM.

Agnes is making some very interesting sport hats of two shades of gros grain ribbon that are very much liked here. In black and white they are particularly stunning, though the model that I wanted was in copper and beige. It would have been divine on an auburn-haired woman.

Have you seen the marvelous new sport shoes of natural-colored linen or white pique? And have you seen the slippers of printed silk? Each has lured me away from my conservative taste in footwear.

This winter I shall play with that dead black and brilliant yellow idea. It's a good one, I know.

We leave next week for Biarritz, and I shall tell you all. Lovingly, GERM.

Agnes is making some very interesting sport hats of two shades of gros grain ribbon that are very much liked here. In black and white they are particularly stunning, though the model that I wanted was in copper and beige. It would have been divine on an auburn-haired woman.

Have you seen the marvelous new sport shoes of natural-colored linen or white pique? And have you seen the slippers of printed silk? Each has lured me away from my conservative taste in footwear.

Copper and Beige

You know how easily I fall for a really lovely tailleur? Well, imagine how bowled over I was by a delightful model of black marocain with a belted jacket cut out with a surprise opening, and a chic little blouse of yellow crepe. In early Saxon marriages the father of the bride delivered one of his daughter's shoes to the bridegroom, who touched her head with it as a symbol of his authority. The present idea of throwing shoes after a bride and groom is a result of this custom.

15 MARRIAGE LICENSES ARE AWAITING OWNERS AT COURT HOUSE; DEMAND FALLING OFF

Who wants a perfectly good marriage license? Why wait three days to get one when there are 15 at the license bureau in the court house waiting to be used at once? In fact the demand seems to have fallen off to such an extent that the documents have not been called for by the applicants.

The new law, which requires a three day wait before the license can be issued, is apparently working far better than the author expected.

The law was designed to prevent hasty marriages which might afterward be regretted. It now appears that, if they cannot get a license and marry the same day, couples with matrimonial intentions are going to take plenty of time about having the knot tied. It may even become fashionable not to appear in a hurry.

No information has been received at the license bureau to indicate whether the owners of the unclaimed documents have reconsidered their intention of being married.

Applicants, however, have 30 days in which to claim their licenses after which they become void. It may be that many couples think it the part of wisdom to be armed with the necessary legal authority a long time before the marriage date. They are perhaps leaving their licenses at the court house to ward off the temptation of using them before the troussseau and all the bridesmaids have been selected.

It would be too easy for an ardent suitor to persuade his prospective bride to step up to the person on some romantic night and take the fatal step without the assistance of marital music.

However, Blanche Hill, at the license bureau, expects the licenses to be taken away in due time. For the urge to marry is just as strong as it was before the new law was passed.

ORDERED TO APPEAR IN JUSTICE COURT

Justice Kenneth Morrison today ordered that Mary Dale Jackson, Los Angeles, appear personally in his court to answer to a charge of speeding 55 miles an hour on July 23.

She appeared today through an automobile club.

In a letter which the judge has filed, Miss Jackson wrote: "At first I was not averse to going to jail but I have found out in the past few days it would be a very unjust reflection upon my personal character."

The automobile club was instructed to have their client come into court immediately.

BOY SCARCES UNCLE TO DEATH IN JOKE

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 5.—Because of a practical joke in an attempt to frighten his uncle, Paul Tinsley may face a charge of manslaughter, authorities here declare.

The uncle, James W. Tinsley, died "from natural causes induced by the emotion of fear," a coroner's jury decided, after his nephew had visited him and attempted to frighten him.

The younger Tinsley admitted the attempt and declared he believed his uncle fired a shotgun at him. The uncle was found in a pool of blood with a shotgun across his body. The police at first thought he had been killed, but later decided the blood had come from the dead man's mouth and nose.

WILLIE RITCHIE IN COMEBACK ATTEMPT

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—Willie Ritchie, one time world's lightweight champion, stages his Southern California comeback tonight at Hollywood stadium when he meets Bobby La Salle, junior welterweight, in the semi-windup to the Young Nationalists-Benny ("Kid") Carter main event.

Ritchie's last local appearance was in 1911 when he substituted for Ad Wolgast against Freddie Welsh, dropping the decision to the Britisher. The following year he won the lightweight title when Wolgast fouled him. He lost the belt to Welsh in London by decision in 1914.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5—David Merrithew Milton Jr., who intends to be conscientious lawyer and not merely the son-in-law of a rich man, is bound for Europe in the third class cabin, the cheapest on the Berengaria, price $100. Mrs. Milton, the former Abby Rockefeller Jr., left on the Olympic first class two weeks ago. Her husband could not get his vacation so early. He is to spend a week with her in Paris, then hurry back to work again.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5—Mrs. Gregg Lifur, Southern California women's golf champion, leaves today for the east. She will compete in the Western women's championship at Lake Geneva, Wis., Aug. 22-27 and the National women's tournament at Cherry Valley, Long Island, September 19-24.

Chicken Thieves Frightened Away

Chicken thieves, who attempted to rob the roosts of Lloyd Heyne, South Palm street, Anaheim, last night, were met with several shots from a gun in the hands of Heyne's young son, according to a report filed at the sheriff's office.

None of the shots took effect, but it served to frighten the intruders away.

The thief first stepped on the burglar alarm around the chicken yard, and this brought young Heyne to the scene with his shotgun.

'CHRIST IN HOLLYWOOD' IS PICTURED BY LECTURER WHO IS VISITING IN SANTA ANA

(Introduction)—The following article, entitled "Christ In Hollywood," sets forth the observations of Mrs. Demarchus C. Brown, well known writer and lecturer of Indianapolis, Ind., now spending the summer in Santa Ana. Mrs. Brown is a staff writer on the Indianapolis News. She is now collecting material for stories on Southern California.

By MRS. DEMARCHUS BROWN

One does not usually associate the name of Hollywood with that of Christ, but it happens that at present there are two public entertainments that tell the Christ story so beautifully, so completely, that one cannot leave Hollywood without seeing them both. On a hot summer afternoon I went to see the film, "The King of Kings," and the same evening I went to see the famous Pilgrimage Play, the Passion Play of the Pacific Coast; and strangely enough I was not sated with the story, but found in the two presentations a fascinating comparison and contrast.

The film play is given in the new Grauman Chinese theater, which everyone is eager to see, for it is the newest thing of the sort in the neighborhood, and all critics seem to agree that Grauman has outdone all his former efforts. It is so gorgeous and so perfect in all its appointments that to one stranger at least it made the famous Egyptian theater across the street look tawdry and second-rate. As we approached the theater I was interested to see on top of the great wall a Chinese sentry with his spear making his rounds, as if in a great fortress. The front of the theater is recessed, making possible the effect of gardens, with water tinkling in several fountains and palm trees growing bravely. In the immediate foreground is a life-sized statue of the beloved "Lindy," dressed in his flying togs and with his charming smile on his youthful countenance. In this palm court there is an old fishing boat of quaint pattern, the one which the disciples used in the film; and across the court is an elaborate chariot, which we are later to see used by the courtesan Mary of Magdalene as she rides in state through the city. The theater itself is flanked by two big towers, on top of which are the quaintest bronze ornaments. Soldiers of old China, dressed in queer garb, stand guard at the entrances, and occasionally a Chinese lady walks out with parasol over her head. It is all very delightful.

Most Marvelous

Step into the foyer and your senses will fairly begin to reel. Never have I, in visiting many theaters in many lands, seen anything like this marvelous theater for richness, for accuracy, for overwhelming beauty. The red brick walls are covered with decorations in gold—not heavy nor garnish, but delicately lovely. Enormous pillars sustain the roof. The ceilings are heavy with gilding and the loveliest lights are constantly changing the effects of color. The carpets took my eye especially, for they were wonderful Chinese rugs of lavish size and tasteful coloring. The entire auditorium, enormous in size, is carpeted in a wonderful Chinese carpet over which huge dragons are crawling, and one's feet sink soundlessly into its luscious depths. The curtain that drapes the stage is of orange velvet, with decorations of silver palm trees. Well, it is all so elaborate, so rich, so satisfactorily beautiful, that one feels his adjectives entirely inadequate for its description! The ushers were all young women attired in splendid old robes of Chinese embroidery, with elaborate gold head-dresses. In the foyer and ante-rooms are numerous statues of mandarins and court ladies, all clothed in these amazing old embroideries, which alone must be worth the traditional king's ransom. It is a place to take one's breath away, and he murmurs to himself, "It must have cost millions!"

Before the rising of the curtain two Chinese gentlemen in elaborate robes took their places in upper boxes and struck on gongs to attract attention. One then made the announcements in Chinese which the other interpreted in English somewhat as follows: "He say, most august people, that play begin again at 7:30 this evening. He say, most honorable assemblage, that orchestra will not insult your honorable ears by playing beautiful music."

The Christ Story

Then the orchestra began, and it did make beautiful music. One listened with interest to comments made by his fellow auditors. I heard one woman say as she looked around this sumptuous and marvelous theater, "Oh isn't this cute?" But another woman said, "If I'd had nothing but that glorious orchestra and the prologue, I'd think I was well repaid!" Of course the artistic effect would have been complete if there had been a Chinese play. Somehow the idea of a Christ play seemed incongruous in this barbaric splendor; but as the lights went out and the picture began, one forgot his surroundings and thought only of the story it portrayed. Jeannie MacPherson says in her first title slide that she hopes this film will assist in making the Christ story known throughout the world. The picture is preceded by a series of tableaux of Scriptural scenes, and by a scene in the temple at Jerusalem, with dancers and processions of priests. It is all exquisitely done.

The picture is most elaborate,

Town Talk

By C. F. S.

The Board of Strategy held a special meeting early Wednesday forenoon at the corner of Fourth and Main to discuss Coolidge's announcement that he did not choose to run for president in 1928.

The discussion revolved about the word "choose," one of the patriots arguing the president's selection of the word did not bury the handle of the hatchet and that it was a clever political ruse to develop party sentiment. Another who had been in politics until the voters decided to make a change welcomed the announcement and was immediately suspected as being from Iowa.

The debate was unfinished at the lunch hour, notification being given by the chairman that it would be resumed as soon as "the boys" found out the washing was finished at home.

What this country needs is longer hours for discussion and shorter ones for labor.

O yes, I almost forgot to say that "J. P." came along just before the Strategy Board adjourned and said he couldn't see anything equivocal in Cal's announcement.

"The fact that he uses few and simple words," said the editor, "is no reason to think Cal doesn't know the meaning of words or hasn't a command of language."

"When he said he did not 'choose' to be a candidate I believe he was both frank and sincere. As a matter of personal choice he would not be a candidate. What he might feel it his duty to do; what his party might command him to do—well we shall see what we shall see."

"I'm glad my name is not in the city directory," said a late arrival. "I might have been mentioned for sheriff."

The orator is made but the poet is born. By the same token, Barnum left his prototype and he lives at Anaheim.

The recent Anaheim Valencia orange show attained an unusual degree of success, due largely to the publicity developed by Doc Barnes, whose duty was to get the orange off the tree and figuratively into the public eye.

Doc fell for the show business early in life. There are a few fellows out here who knew him when he put on a show and the price of admission was three pins—all safety.

If you want to get a picture of your reputation, listen to "The Street."

If you go to church you are a hypocrite. If you take a drink you are a bootlegger. If you accept the chairmanship of any movement for local betterment you have a selfish purpose. If you give to charity you are accused of trying to hide a multitude of sins. If you have that many.

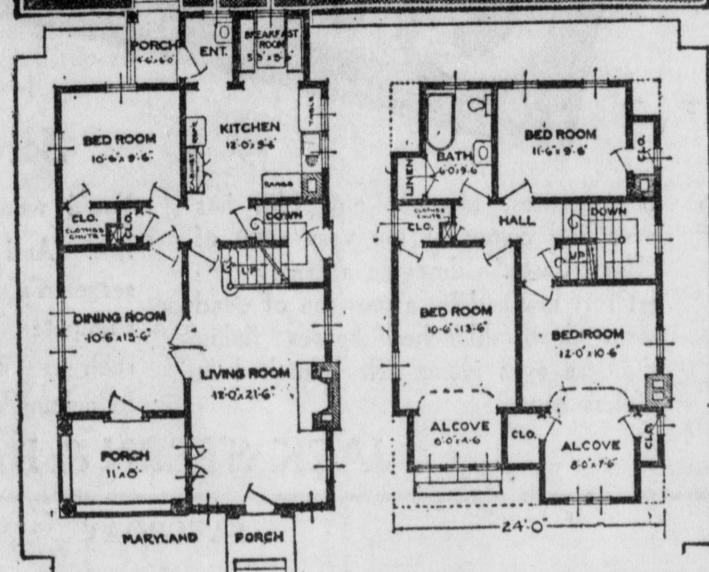

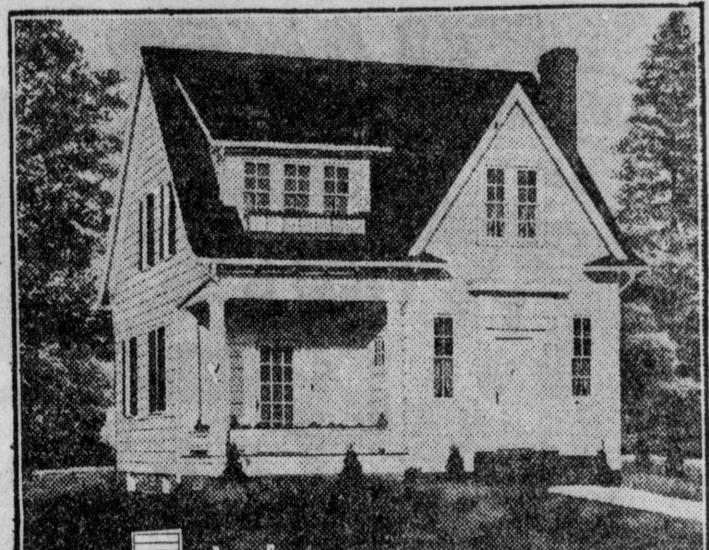

Listen to "The Street" and you will get a cross-section of your reputation that will look like a sieve.

Ill fares the land where Innuendo takes the place of integrity and suspicion that of confidence.

The contractor's force was rushed.

ORANGE COUNTY'S TAXABLE PROPERTY VALUATION SHOWS AN INCREASE OF 15 MILLIONS

An increase of $15,681,550 in the valuation of Orange county property taxable for county purposes was officially reported today by Auditor W. C. Jerome, who released figures covering school, road and special district valuations, and municipal valuations, reaching a grand total of $168,293,000, as compared to $152,611,450 for 1926.

Jerome's figures represent an exact check upon the estimates announced a few weeks ago by Assessor James Sleeper, and show that slight changes in the total, as reported by the assessor. The auditor, however, has segregated the valuations by districts and by cities.

The county valuation total is $68,667,750 inside of incorporated cities, and $99,625,250 in the road districts outside of the cities. The 25 road improvement districts in the county represent a valuation of $17,779,590.

Municipal valuations give all cities of the county an increase with the exception of Anaheim and Fullerton. Huntington Beach gained $5,075,975, the largest of

PAPER MONEY SCRUTINIZED BY BANK MEN

Paying Teller Says Many Large Bills Inscribed With Farewell Messages

In cashing their weekly pay checks, the greater number of people neglect to examine closely the hundred dollar bills they pick up from the counter at the paying teller's window. Now, according to T. O. Carlson, teller at the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings bank, if 100 dollar bills were more carefully examined little verses of farewell could quite often be found written on them.

"To those outside the banking business," said Mr. Carlson, "paper money is not usually looked at closely, but to one handling many bills at a time the slightest irregularity is at once noticeable. I have seen a number of bills of large denominations with farewells in verse written on them. Bills that are badly demolished are returned to the treasury department for exchange. If a bill has been torn in two, a new bill is given the person holding it, providing the holder has more than half of the original certificate.

At the First National bank it was said that while verses have never been observed on bills, names and addresses are sometimes seen. The paper money returning from China bears a stamp denoting the different towns where the money has been spent, it was said here. Notes bearing the names of Singapore, Canton and other Chinese cities are often observed.

Little foreign money is handled by the local banks since much of it has been below par, it was said at the Orange County Trust and Savings bank. The exchange department is the pulse of foreign conditions and in this connection it is interesting to note that Wednesday marked the first time for many years that the British pound sterling has been near par. On that day it was quoted at $4.84 1-2, par is $4.86.

No matter what denomination a bill may be, it costs the same price to make it, whether it is one of the thousands of crisp new one dollar bills or the unfamiliar $10,000 certificate. This cost is nine-tenths of a cent. The yearly output of the subject, the speaker took her listeners step by step through the various stages of operation development. Miss Waggener gave an interesting talk on modern telephone operation as it relates to the work of the switchboard operator. In detailed presentation of the subject, the speaker took her listeners step by step through the various stages of operation development.

LARGEST ELECTRIC SIGN IN WORLD TO ADVERTISE TEMPLE

LOS ANGELES, Aug 5 — The largest electric sign in the world, carrying the inscription, "Aimee Semple McPherson Invites you to Angelus temple," will shortly be erected atop the Angelus temple, the famous evangelist has announced.

In connection with the erection of the huge sign, which will be 350 feet long, set 250 feet above the street level, Mrs. McPherson announced that a hotel, an office building and a printing plant would be erected in the world campaign for the Four Square Gospel.

The Rev. John Goben, of Des Moines, has been appointed to represent the movement to organize churches in eastern cities, the evangelist announced.

Constructive as well as entertaining, ranging from a serious talk on modern telephone operation to an amusing burlesque on the much abused intelligence test, interspersed here and there with musical numbers and vocal selections, was the program put on yesterday by the Santa Ana Lions club at St. Ann's Inn.

Harold E. Yost, president of the club, presided over the meeting, and J. A. George was in charge of the program. In addition to several visiting Lions from out-of-town dens, the guest list included a bevy of beautiful girls, operators of the Santa Ana exchange of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, captained by Miss Josephine Waggener, supervisor. The girls were accompanied by Earl R. Morris, manager of the Santa Ana office, who had been invited as special guest.

PATIENTS FROM HOSPITALS TO COME TO MEET

MAIL CARRIERS OF SANTA ANA ARE FACED BY BIG PROBLEMS

Twenty-eight deliverymen often blamed when no letters are received

DISTRIBUTING MAIL IS EASIEST OF JOBS

Each carrier makes about 250 calls daily—sometimes number is double

Like telephone operators, mail carriers have a few stock phrases which they spring on people along their routes. When the long looked-for letter from a husband and wife, or maybe one with a check from the rich uncle, fails to appear, the mail man often gets the blame.

Occasionally in self defense, the carrier calls out as he passes up a house.

"If you don't get a letter this afternoon, I'll write one for you myself." Sometimes this settles the question and sometimes it does not.

Not very often does it bring a smile. Many people seem to feel that the mail man is keeping the letter in hiding for several trips, just for fun.

Or, if he isn't doing that, he at least ought to be able to reach into his bag and find just one letter as a peace offering until the right envelope arrives.

Of course most people don't really mean it when they tell the carriers what poor service they're giving. But when the post office boys pass several times without bringing the long awaited letter, someone just has to have a bawling out.

As long as the letter men are the most handy, they generally get the benefit of the lecture which ought to be given to the neglectful correspondent.

EVERYONE GETS LETTER

On some days, however, everyone gets a letter, and then there ought to be peace in the family. But there isn't. Because the whole sale supply of mail usually comes from the tax assessor's office. If it isn't from there, it bears news of bargain prices on kitchen mops or oil stock, instead of telling whether John has proposed to Mary yet. Those are the days when every letter carrier has to be a diplomat.

C. C. Langley, foreman of the carriers in the Santa Ana office, outlined today the trials of the 23 delivery men employed at the Santa Ana office.

Dogs of course, are one of the problems every carrier has to solve sooner or later. Often they are inclined to be friendly. But long experience has revealed the fact that even the most friendly dog may suddenly turn vicious. The best scheme the mail men have devised is to pay no attention whatever to dogs, no matter how friendly they may seem.

The fact that they wear uniforms and carry a sack of mail, is advanced by the carriers as the reason why dogs are inclined to scratch the names of letter carriers from their lists of friends. They look a little different from other people.

DISTRIBUTION EASY

The actual distribution of mail is one of the easier parts of the carriers' work. Accurate casing, or sorting of all letters, must be done before the men leave the office in the morning. The post office regulations require a certain degree of

ICE CREAM SALES POOR; NO SUNSHINE

LONDON, Aug. 5.—This has been a cold summer in England—such a cold one, in fact, that vendors of ice cream are face to face with bankruptcy. There are more than 900 such peddlers in London and the impending starvation of 900 persons is a big enough problem to bother God about.

At least, so said Signor Pomps, leader of those who sell ice cream. Signor Pomps arranged a special high mass to be celebrated at Clarkenwell as an act of supplication for warm and sunny weather so that other people would suffer from the heat—and buy ice cream.

But on the morning the mass was to be held, only half a dozen of the 900 vendors appeared. The reason was that the sun came out bright and hot that day and most of the peddlers were busy at their trade.

The members with their friends are invited to be present. Basket lunch will be served at noon. Coffee will be provided.

WEDDING IS PLANNED AT WORKMEN PICNIC

A wedding is to be celebrated at the state picnic of the Ancient Order of United Workmen meeting at Orange County park next Sunday. The names of the principals are being kept secret. The wedding is to be one of the series of events on the program for the day.

Over 1000 members of the order, from all over the state, are expected to be present. The state manager, A. T. Lisle, of Los Angeles, will attend.

The members with their friends are invited to be present. Basket lunch will be served at noon. Coffee will be provided.

NEGRO PERFORMS TRICK FOR DAWES

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 5.—Vice President Dawes, during a short stopover in Memphis, witnessed a "divine" trick performed by a negro car repairer for the benefit of the vice president and at the expense of him of a new hand-embroidered handkerchief.

William Watson, the negro "magician," claims that when he was a boy he had a vision from heaven and that he became endowed with the power to blow his breath on any object and set it afire. The party was taken to the office of Clyde Mays, general superintendent of the Illinois Central railroad and Watson came forward.

He asked for a handkerchief and Mr. Dawes let him have one with the remark, "Well, I'll never see it again." Watson, true to his promise, blew his breath on it and after a few mystery puffs the handkerchief caught fire.

Watson repeated the trick several times while the vice president puffed away at his underslung pipe.

The trick, however, went unexplained.

"30 Below Zero," latest release starring the famed Westerner, Buck Jones, will have a showing at the West Coast-Walker theater tomorrow.

In this story of the wild adventures of a wild young man, there is plenty of action as the result of a very interesting plot. The scenes are laid in the "wilds" of Broadway and the wilds of the north woods. The love interest is pronounced and some of the stunts performed by Buck are of the kind to make an audience grip their seats. An outstanding feature of the production, however, is the large number of humorous situations in which the star becomes involved.

Laughs, good and plenty, are a happy feature of this comedy drama, whose feminine lead is Eva Novak.

The stage show, closing tonight, offers Jack Stern, popular comedian, and his band in a carefully arranged program of music and fun. Art Shaw, theater organist, is featured in piano numbers, classical and popular.

Ken Maynard set a record in "bulldogging" in "The Land Beyond the Law," his latest starring picture, coming to the Yost Broadway theater tonight.

To make the stunt all the more sensational, Ken "bulldogs" a steer in this picture to rescue Billy Butts, who is in the path of the maddened "dog," and does so from his feet—without jumping from a horse. A "dog," by the way, is a maverick steer who drifts from the herd and generally causes the most trouble in a roundup.

This is one of the thrilling episodes in "The Land Beyond the Law," which goes still further in establishing Ken Maynard as the greatest all-round Western screen star.

"Bulldogging," when properly done, consists of releasing a wild steer from an enclosed corral, with a mounted cowboy standing in readiness to follow the steer. The cowboy must jump from his horse alongside or atop the bull and throw the steer from his feet to the ground. In championship contests this takes anywhere from one to five minutes.

GOT TO HOLLYWOOD

GIRLS NEGLECT EYES

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—With 50 cents and a copy of Emerson's Essays, Miss Rose Host, 20-year-old winner of a beauty contest in New York City, walked aboard the liner Manchuria, bound for Hollywood, and hid herself until the boat started. Then she gave herself up and worked her passage here.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—London occultists are becoming greatly worried by the apparent refusal of English women to wear glasses. Glasses ruin their beauty, the women say, so they go without them and are unable to recognize their friends a few feet away. The lorgnette fad was started last season, but very few are to be seen now.

MAIL CARRIERS ARE FACED BY BIG PROBLEMS

proficiency in this work, but the average speed for the Santa Ana men is well above the requirement, according to Langley.

Each carrier makes in the neighborhood of 250 calls daily. But on some days he stops as many as five hundred times on his route. Besides remembering the names of the people on the route he carries, each man keeps in his head several hundred other names and addresses. These include mainly the names of people who have been on his itinerary at one time and have since moved away. To facilitate forwarding of mail and to avoid looking up new addresses continually, the men keep them in their heads.

The most helpful way in which people can co-operate with the carriers is to provide mail boxes which can accommodate both second and first class mail. Newspapers and packages often must be left on the porch or else the carrier must take time to ring doorbells and wait till someone comes to receive the bulky package. If everyone would consult the carrier on his street, he could locate his mailbox in the most convenient place. The saving of 15 to 30 seconds on each stop would mean that the carrier could cut the time necessary to cover his route by almost two hours.

Twice a year an inspection of the routes is made in order to determine whether any carrier is overworked. If this condition is found, a readjustment is made. A count and weight check is also made twice each year to determine the quantity of material carried by each man.

There are 15 routes which are carried on foot in Santa Ana, seven on which a bicycle is used, five rural routes and one parcel post route.

Town Talk

ing the work of putting down the new pavement, ably assisted by the unemployed, while the plumber and gas men were waiting for the work to be finished so they could put in their lines. No, this didn't happen in Santa Ana, but it might.

It just seems that some people must serve a jail sentence before they are qualified to make an affidavit.

Santa Ana will soon throw out its Community Chest.

Bill Spurgeon has consented to lead the parade and he hopes to make such a showing that Joe Plank's American Legion will want to know who sent that guy a military manual. Bill won't care. The only tactic he has any use for is to put the job over the top.

This advance notice is merely for the purpose of giving you an opportunity to figure out how stingy you are going to be.

Now that The Register is printing Aunt Het's philosophy we hope it will have a permanent wave.

Anita Loos is asking for help to keep the blondes out of Hollywood. We are not so particular in Santa Ana. Send 'em in.

The incident recalls the story of a young man who contemplated matrimony and asked his married friend whether a blonde or a brunette was the best temperament and his friend replied that he didn't notice much difference—that his wife had been both.

An allowance of fourteen cents a meal for prisoners in the Orange county jail advertises that detention as a bum place to board. Any desire that we may have had to become a guest is now entirely obliterated.

A number of new laws went into effect recently governing tonnorial operations, but nothing was enacted that prevented conversation.

The rumor that Henry Ford intends to name his new car The Sapiro lacks confirmation. In any event it is not expected to break the sales record in Palestine.

Ever meet this bird? He had picked up The Register, which carried about seven thousand words of telegraph news from all parts of the world; was filled with local news, neighborhood items and state information, editorial and feature articles—a complete metropolitan production—and after a cursory glance he laid it down with a "Ho, hum, there isn't much in the paper this evening."

"And then he went down to the club to play a game of pinocchio and to 'get the news.'

An appropriate heading for this item would be: "Utility of the Intelligence Test."

One orange grower stopped trimming trees long enough to inform his neighbor that he had taken care of a certain number of trees and hadn't cut off an orange.

"What's the matter?" inquired neighbor. "Ain't there any on the trees?"

Which isn't a very bad estimate on next year's crop.

SECRETARY SPEEDS

FRANKFORT, N. Y., Aug. 5.—Naturally a man concerned with ships sees no reason for delay if he is in a hurry and no occasion for a slow bell is apparent. Theodore Douglas Robinson, assistant secretary of the navy, was nailed in this upstate village for speeding in his automobile. It developed that a warning sign had been removed temporarily and a justice of the peace let him off.

BURGLAR GIVEN
CHASE BY MAN
BUT ESCAPES

A chase that lasted for several minutes and covered several blocks ended early last night when a burglar outdistanced the man he had robbed and made his escape, at Fullerton, according to a report filed with the sheriff's office today.

L. F. Bohling, reported that he turned home just in time to see a man climbing out of his bedroom window. He immediately gave chase and at one time got within six feet of the burglar. Winded, he was forced to retire.

The thief obtained jewelry valued at $70 which included an opal ring, a diamond stickpin and a white gold watch.

Entrance into the house was made by cutting a screen at the rear of the home.

Oil Restraining Order Dissolved

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 5.—The temporary restraining order restricting completion of wells in Great Seminole oil field has been ordered dissolved by the Oklahoma corporation commission. The order followed filing of an agreement signed by operators in the field seeking reduction of production by pro-rating of individual well output and pinching of newly developed wells outside the proven areas.

HOT WORK SAY EMPLOYEES OF ICE CONCERN

Br-r-r. It's been mighty cold in Santa Ana the past few weeks. So cold that ear-muffs and overshoes and all the fixings for down east winter weather would not come amiss. Of course it must be admitted that this cold weather has been rather "spotty" and that it has only been in limited areas that the floors have been so ice-caked that they offered a fine opportunity for an ice slide across them.

Paradoxical as it may seem, these icy realms have been the hottest imaginable places in which to work, and men working in these regions are airy clad in blue overalls and hickory shirts, in spite of the fact that the thermometer registers some 12 degrees below freezing.

This Elysian realm of coolness on a hot day may be found at the Taylor Ice plant, 1654 Palm avenue, where Scott and Sternke, distributors probably break the records of heat and cold in one building. The temperature in the engine room where water is distilled before being frozen into ice, ranges from 99 degrees, twenty feet away from the boilers to 100 and then some, near them.

The heat of the engine room can be imagined from the fact that the fire that roars the water into steam consumes 62,000 cubic feet of gas a day, using 3,400 gallons of water in the process. This is the largest tea-kettle in the city and this is the only place in this country where water is turned to steam before it is frozen.

It is but a step from the tropical heat of the engine room to the freezing and storage rooms where you can see your breath and shiver no matter what the mercury registers outside. It would cost a man, weighing 160 pounds, about $1.20 to board here for a month during a hot spell, as it costs 30 cents to board a box of apples, weighing 40 pounds, for a like period.

Everybody who works around ice knows it's warm around an ice plant without anyone asking them that atrocious question, "Is it hot enough for you?" The men who pull the big cakes from the boxes where they are frozen, the men who drag the cakes from the storage rooms, the men who feed your ice-box, all know when it's warm weather without being told.

"The only time an ice man is cool is when he is all wet," said one of the men who goes at a dead run around the house with a trifle of fifty pounds of frozen water on his back, "the water melting on his clothes, is the only thing that keeps him cool."

Yep, it's hot work working around ice.

Turkey Talk Is Talked By Turk

MARYSVILLE, Calif., Aug. 5.—Swimmers in the Feather river thought Sam Ali was having a good time when he started yelling in Turkish. But All was calling for help in his native tongue and he was going down for a third time before a nearby swimmer realized his plight and dragged him out of the water.

In the battle of money, 200 million dollars was used in the turnover of shares.

At last the sellers had no more shares to sell. Jimmy had no more money to buy.

Out of Cash

But the sellers said they had more shares to sell. Jimmy, too tired to bluff, admitted he had no more money to buy.

He went quietly off to his country home near Wanborough. He scribbled a few notes, appealing to his wealthy friends for help for his wife, his son, his daughter, now penniless. Then poison took from the financial world one of its dominant figures.

On Jimmy White's desk the next day was found a letter from a friend, Sir Harry McGowan, offering to lend him $3,750,000. Had Jimmy held on just another day longer he would have passed the crisis with this assistance.

So the jury, meeting in Jimmy's ornate diningroom at Foxhill, decided he committed suicide while insane.

Jimmy now lies buried in the little churchyard of the Wanborough parish church, within sound, could he but hear, of the padding hoofs of the racehorses in training, the muffled pounding he liked so much to hear.

Hunting License Brings Man Back With His Bride

WOODLAND, Calif., Aug. 5.—Albert A. Oesenbrigen made sure of his hunting trip before he obtained his marriage license.

Oesenbrigen got a hunting license from Harry A. Saunders, county clerk, early in the morning. An hour late he returned with Miss Elsieore Ehrike to secure a marriage license.

'RIVER OF OIL' PROMOTER DIES BY OWN HAND

LONDON, England, Aug. 5.—On the immaculate, rich linens cloth of a round table in a restaurant near Piccadilly Circus, a knife traced a map of a portion of Venezuela. Through the center of the map the knife drew a wavering line.

Around the table sat the financiers of Lombard street, the Wall street of London. They were rigid, with eyes welded to that wavering line.

The knife continued its course until the hesitant uncertain furrow reached the sea.

River of Oil

"That," said a voice, "is the River of Oil."

The speaker was a millionaire sportsman and promoter, James White, now dead by his own hand and buried at Wanborough.

"This river," his voice went on, has been there for centuries. Geologists have told me so. It flows on and on and on. It has thousands and millions and billions of gallons of oil. I shall tap that river, shall bring the oil to the surface. I shall make—yes, I shall make millions for each of you."

Quickly the word spread to the thousands of men who followed Jimmy White on his speculations. Money poured in for the venture. Millions of pounds piled up behind him.

Some financiers grew skeptical.

One day he went to Venezuela. He returned.

"No river of oil there," he said.

"There is," Jimmy came back.

"There is, I know. Geologists. My reports. I'm never wrong."

But there were other "big men" in Lombard street who were financial opponents of Jimmy White.

Big Market Fight

There began such a manipulation of the London stock market as it had not seen since the World war. For four months the group opposed to Jimmy White, led by Sir Edward Mackay Edgar, worked to bring him down from the heights. Since February the group had been gradually absorbing preference shares of the British controlled oil fields.

Suddenly, during the last few weeks, came a great battle of money. Sir Edward's group began to sell thousands of shares. Jimmy had to buy them up to keep the market firm.

On Saturday Jimmy sent letters to his friends and also to men who were not within his inner circle promising a spectacular rise in the preference shares. On the following Monday three-fourths million shares changed hands. But the rise was only one shilling per share and the bears, or sellers, worked quietly and undermined Jimmy's work.

In the battle of money, 200 million dollars was used in the turnover of shares.

At last the sellers had no more shares to sell. Jimmy had no more money to buy.

But the sellers said they had more shares to sell. Jimmy, too tired to bluff, admitted he had no more money to buy.

Southern California Gardens

By RUSSELL S. ADKINSON

Sweet Peas

It is necessary to leave the shrub lot for the present and take up some season punnings that are at hand. Chief among these is the Winter Flowering Sweet Peas.

Although there is lots of time left for planting of sweet peas the real early flowers are the result of extra early planting. While the necessary care is greater than for later plantings the results are usually better.

The Sweet Pea requires an open exposure, with plenty of sunlight.

In our particular locality it is necessary to try and locate a space in the garden that is protected from the fall winds. These often play havoc with choice plants that are about to give gorgeous bouquets of flowers.

Pests

Like all choice flowers, the culture of the sweet pea presents its difficulties. One of the greatest comes at time of germination. As the little plants start through the ground they are often destroyed by birds, worms, or slugs. Unless they are observed closely by the gardener they may not be aware of the fact that they have even germinated. A protection of wire netting is usually efficient against birds and by using "Snare" the slug ravages can be stopped.

Aphids

Sweet peas are occasionally attacked by Aphids, but not often.

Spraying with "Volck" or "Black Leaf 40" is recommended for their control.

No let not the mention of these pests discourage your sweet pea planting as thousands of seeds are planted each year that are never effected by any of the above mentioned pests.

BELGRADE, Aug. 5.—The Jugoslav mines department has obtained a credit of $100,000,000 dinars ($1,700,000) with which it proposes to finance the erection near Belgrade of a plant for the distillation of coal.

Berlin Railways Use Wooden Ties

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—The Berlin street railway company, now replacing in certain streets rails that have become worn, is for the first time making the experiment of laying the rails on wooden ties.

Heretofore rails have been laid on the rolled stone foundation on which the asphalt layer was placed. Experience has shown that the vibration gradually causes the rails to become loose. Now the stone foundation is being made somewhat deeper, the ties are laid on this and ballasted with crushed stone and the asphalt covers ties, ballast and the base of the rails.

When Phil Ball, owner of the St. Louis Browns, expresses an opinion, he doesn't mean anything. Ball is always much in earnest when he speaks.

The other day the owner of the Browns, disappointed and disgusted at the showing of his club, announced that he would immediately start to scrap the entire team with a very few exceptions. Said Phil Ball:

"The St. Louis club is full of players who have had every chance to make good in the majors and have failed. Also, there are several disturbers on the club, who haven't helped. The dead ones, as far as St. Louis is concerned, must go."

"Only four players of the 25 on the payroll are worth while and George Sisler isn't among them. He is still a great player but would do better elsewhere."

Ball admits the club has lost about $200,000 in the last two years. Of course that isn't very pleasant. However, that sum of money doesn't mean a great deal as baseball is a mere sideline with him. What he wants is a winner.

MAY KEEP THESE TWO

It looks very much as if the St. Louis club would finish seventh this year. That is its position at present and certainly the announcement by Ball that only four players are worth retaining won't help the morale of the club or improve its play.

Looking over the personnel of the club, I am sure I can cut the four to two, by naming Harry Rice and Fred Shulte as two players certain to be held over for 1928.

Shulte is the young man who cost the Browns $100,000 last fall.

Girls' gymnasium classes at Santa Ana junior college will be instructed next fall by Mrs. William Foote, wife of the Santa Ana high school baseball coach, it was learned today from the appointments made by the Santa Ana board of education. Mrs. Foote will have complete charge of the junior college department, teaching swimming, dancing and sports in addition to regular gymnastic exercises.

Mrs. Foote replaces Miss Florence Treadway whose resignation was tendered to the school board in June.

Swimming is the specialty at which Mrs. Foote excels. During the past year, she often gave diving and swimming exhibitions before girls' classes of the high school and junior college.

The bachelor of arts degree in education was received by Mrs. Foote at the San Diego State Teachers' college. Previously she was graduated from the Chicago Normal school and took work at Columbus university and the University of Minnesota. This summer she is supplementing her physical education work, especially that of dancing, at the University of Southern California.

Two years' experience is held by Mrs. Foote in athletic coaching. She was instructor in the high schools of Minneapolis in 1925 and during the first months of last fall was on the girls' athletic staff at Polytechnic high school, Los Angeles.

Junior college girls classes will be conducted along lines similar to that of last year, it was learned. Emphasis is to be placed on the

16-Year-Old Miss Boasts Victory Abroad Over Molla Mallory

BY MILTON BRONNER

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Want to see a British girl? Or start flag waving? Or squaring off his shoulders and boasting a bit?

Just say—Betty!

Betty Nuthall is the candy kid in England these days because on her all England pins its hopes of a British successor to the throne in tennis once held by Suzanne Lenglen.

Should Betty ever acquire that standing in the tennis world she'll be ever so much more popular than Suzanne was—not only with Britons but also with Americans.

Of course, Britons were disappointed just a wee bit this year, when Betty lost out, but no one really expected her to stand the pace that eventually won for Helen Wills the singles championship at Wimbledon.

She's young, only 16, and she's just a good-looking schoolgirl, modest and charming in her ways.

Yet, during the tournament, she defeated two of the most formidable entries, Fraulein Aussem, the 16-year-old German star, who had been called the "German Lenglen," and Mrs. Molla Mallory, many times American woman champion.

With such a records to her credit, the tennis friends over here look forward to the day an epic contest between their Betty and our own little Helen Wills will take place.

Like Suzanne, Betty was designed for tennis glories from her would trade these five coronets for Armou's single crown and yet there is no denying his accomplishment is far superior to Tommey's.

Which leads us to a new suggestion made by pros lately: Why not decide the true champion on an average of results over the entire year?

Golf being what it is, it is ridiculous to pick a single 72-hole tournament and call the winner "champion of America." The truth is, if the Oakmont classic had been replayed the following week another probably would have won. Due to the character of the game an open championship merely decides who is champion for any given week.

Like Baseball That Way Golf resembles baseball that way. They don't proclaim the Giants champions on the strength of one series. Even the lowly Red Sox occasionally trim the Yanks. Pennant races are determined by a

TILDEN, HUNTER IN FINALS; HELEN JACOBS FACES MOLLA

SEABRIGHT, N. J., Aug. 5.—William T. Hunter II, and Frank T. Hunter were matched in the final round of the Seabright invitation tennis tournament today.

After their match, the final round of the women's doubles was scheduled with Miss Kea Bouman, of Holland, and Mrs. Molla Mallory, national singles champion, contending with Miss Margaret Blake, of Boston, and Mrs. Charlotte Hos-mer Chapin, of California.

Bringing the only upset in the four singles matches yesterday, Miss Helen Jacobs, of Berkeley, Calif., defeated Miss Eleanor Goss, of New York, No. 3 ranking woman player in the United States. Miss Jacobs won 6-2, 6-2.

Miss Jacobs will meet Mrs. Mallory in the finals tomorrow. The gallery is interested to see if Miss Jacobs can repeat her recent victory over Mrs. Mallory.

BERLIN, Aug. 5—Berlin's latest curiosity is a church steeple serving as a lighthouse to aviators. The church of Gennesaret, 600 yards east of Tempelhof of flying field, has been equipped with a beacon light.

The steeple is perforated with illuminating pipes so as to produce four red crosses gleaming toward the four points of the compass. Besides the church steeple, a number of high factory chimneys around the Tempelhof airdrome have also been converted into auxiliary lighthouses.

cradle. Stuart Nuthall and his wife trained Betty, and they were both good tennis players from ten years old.

The child made her first appearance in regular tennis when she was nine years old. She was entered in the Surrey junior championships, almost being rejected because of her tender years by the officials.

But Betty got in because of her parents and proceeded to beat her opponent—twice her height and many times older.

Betty progressed from then on. When her father moved to Richmond he had a hard court built in his spacious gardens where she could practice day and night. So that schooling would not interfere with her tennis, he took the school to her by hiring an instructor. Her opponents were well-known players who visited her parents.

In 1924 she made a clean sweep of the junior championships of the United Kingdom, winning in singles, doubles and mixed.

Just as her father was on the point of taking her to the Riviera to play, he died. Later, however, her mother took her to southern France and there she played with the great Henri Cochet and won the mixed doubles at Beaulieu.

Ever since then she has played steadily in women's contests in England and has given a good account of herself in every tournament.

Her wins over Fraulein Aussem and Mrs. Mallory made her the best drawing card the famous Wimbledon tournament has ever had. Even Suzanne in her glory did not draw bigger crowds.

You see, the British are more enthusiastic than ever now that they have in Betty an English girl to cheer.

BILLY
EVANS
Says

He was just begging to prove he was worth that amount when he crashed into the concrete wall at the St. Louis park, suffering injuries that have put him out of the game for the rest of the season.

Few outfielders in the majors have more natural ability than Rice. He appears ripe to cash in off his assets.

Manager Dan Howley has, in Rice and Shute, the basis for a really great outfield. Both of these players do everything well and are young in years.

SISLER MAY GO AWAY

Sisler is certain to be traded. Early this year three American league clubs were dickering for him. The Browns should get some good material in return.

It is unfortunate that illness may end the career of Oscar Melillo. Few better infield prospects have ever broken into the majors than Melillo. He may beat his illness, pronounced as Bright's disease, and deliver.

Of the pitching staff, Milton Gaston will be much sought after should he be placed on the market. I wouldn't be surprised if he was one of the four to be retained.

Frank O'Rourke at third has been one of the most valuable players on the Browns. Secured for utility roles, he has more than made good. He seems certain of retention in that role if not as a regular.

While Wally Schang and Steve O'Neill are veteran catchers, both still have several years of good service in them.

On the surface, it looks like an entire new infield for the Browns next season, one new man in the outfield and an entirely rejuvenated corps of pitchers, with some youthful material added to the catching staff.

New faces for a time at least will serve as a tonic to renew interest in American league baseball in St. Louis, which at present is at low ebb.

SOX PARK REDUCES HITS

What part does a ball park play in the making of .300 or better batting averages? On the surface, that may sound like a rather foolish question, yet in reality it is a most logical one.

American league ball players are agreed that the Chicago park is the most difficult one in the circuit in which to gather base hits.

While the park is an excellent one to see on, there is always a stiff wind blowing in from center field. This, of course, gives an added advantage to the pitcher and handicaps the batter by preventing him from getting distance.

The White Sox players suffer most from this condition because they play 77 games at home.

"Playing 77 games on the White Sox park during the season just about erases 25 points from every regular Chicago player's average," said Babe Ruth after a recent four-game series in that city. "You just can't get distance hitting into such a wind as is usually blowing into the batter's face."

I am inclined to think Ruth's estimate fairly conservative. Perhaps that is one of the many reasons why various White Sox teams have been known as the "Hitless Wonders."

George Burns of the Cleveland Indians, who holds the two-base hitting championship of the major leagues, promises to surpass his own record this season.

The veteran Tris Speaker was the first of the Washington Senators to make his one hundred hit this season.

percentage of victories over the entire season. Logically, the same procedure should follow in golf.

Understand in proclaiming Johnny Farrell professional champion over the year's stretch, no slab is intended at good old Tommy Armour. Tommy was as good as any golfer at Oakmont—and better than most.

The way the "national champion" is picked in America today seems nothing but a glorified lottery. It is a hit or miss affair with luck enthroned. Whoever happens to be on his game that particular week gets the halo for the entire 52 weeks. It is just as if a batting champion were decided on one afternoon and Babe Ruth, after hitting 100 homers all season, happened to strike out and a rookie scratched a single to cop the title.

This condition was not noticed till 1927 when Mr. Farrell came along and called attention to the faulty system by which a "national professional champion" is selected.

Thirty years ago the Cleveland baseball team was known as the Spiders.

Our Quarterly
Extra Value Event

For purposes of accounting we divide the year into "periods" of three months or "quarters." The record "period" of this year closed June 30. It requires some time to compile the figures and know just what the results of the period's operations were. These figures are in now and they are exceedingly gratifying. We are more than pleased with both total sales and net profits. They show, very clearly, that Safeway stores, Safeway methods, Safeway merchandise, and Safeway men have won the hearty approval of Southern California food buyers.

Inspired by this splendid showing, we want to do something extra for our patrons. So, for a week, beginning Tuesday, August 2, and ending Saturday, August 6, we offer the folks of Los Angeles and vicinity a wide variety of exceptional values in staple, high quality food stuffs. This is an unusual opportunity to save and we urge you to take full advantage of it.

AMERICANS ARE
PHONE LEADERS
CENSUS SHOWS

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—"We, the people of the United States," are a giddy lot, according to figures made public by the New York Telephone company. Out of a total of 27,758,963 telephones in the world on January 1, 1926, the United States possessed 18,835,918, or 61 per cent of the world's total.

But that isn't all. Not only has the United States more telephones than all the rest of the world put together, but Americans use the telephone oftener than the inhabitants of any other country.

There were 196 telephone conversations per capita in this country in 1925, as compared with only 32 conversations in Germany, although that country ranked second to the United States as regards the number of telephones in service. In the United States in 1925 there were twenty-two billion, four hundred million complete conversations—equivalent to one every second for over 700 hundred years. Shades of Rip Van Winkle!

Out on the farm, where they now have the radio and phonograph to break the monotony, they are just as talkative. In communities of fewer than 50,000 there are 31.7 telephones per 100 inhabitants, an average greater than the total average of any country except Canada. In Europe rural development is almost negligible.

In the cities New York takes the lead. In proportion to its population New York has four times as many telephones as London, nearly three times as many as Paris and more than twice as many as Berlin. It has more telephones than the whole of Great Britain and Northern Ireland. Chicago has more than the whole of France; San Francisco has more than Italy; while Omaha, with a population of only 223,000, has about one-third as many telephones as the whole of Russia with its 140,000,000 inhabitants.

ITALY PLANNING TO CUT LIVING COSTS

MILAN, Aug. 5.—The campaign for the reduction of the cost of living is being carried on by the government with unusual energy, as it is deemed necessary to relieve the hardships caused by the too rapid revaluation of the lira. Discontent is widespread, but the poorer classes are those who suffer most, because the reduction of wages has not yet been followed by a corresponding reduction in the cost of living.

The government has found it difficult to secure a substantial and general reduction in the retail prices of food and has accordingly decided to concentrate its action chiefly against the landlords.

At Turin two landlords, both of whom had occupied prominent positions in public life, were condemned without trial by a provincial council to two years' exile on an island off Sicily.

BOY KILLS MOTHER AS HE PLAYS GAME

GRASS VALLEY, Calif., Aug. 5.—John Alden, 14-year-old son of Mrs. Anne Alden of San Francisco, shot his mother to death near here when the mother was attempting to photograph the lad in a new cowboy outfit with which he carried a gun. The shooting was entirely accidental, the mother said before she died.

The bullet struck Mrs. Alden in the side. Horrified, the lad rushed to neighbors for help. The woman was taken to a hospital in Nevada City, where she signed a statement absolving the youth from all blame.

The youth said he was "playing Bill Hart, pretending it was in the old days, and I was holding up stage coaches."

Woman Is Head Of Sark Island

LONDON, Aug. 5.—For the second time in history, and after an interval of 200 years, the head of the civil government of the Island of Sark, which is the most beautiful and wildest of the Channel Isles, is a woman—Mrs. Dudley Beaumont, daughter of the late William Collings, the former Seigneur.

As Dame de Sark she officiates as president when the court of Chief Pleas meets. Sark is, indeed, an actual survival of feudal days, for the lord and tenants of the manor form a feudal court.

Most of the residents of Sark, which is about six miles from Guernsey, use French as the language of intercourse, but also resort to English when the colony of tax dodgers arrives to do its bit in order that Winston Churchill cannot collect two much bounty.

Cable Addresses Urged For Paris

PARIS, Aug. 5.—A numerical telephone and cable address for every Paris householder is urged by the Paris newspaper Liberty.

Frenchmen are beginning to complain that the romantic sounding names of their streets and towns cost them heavily in telephone bills, since addresses must be paid for by the word. It is not unusual for a French address to run to fourteen words or more.

Liberty also asks the municipal council of Paris not to pick out five and six-word street names when they are christening new thoroughfares.

LATEST BALLOT LAW OF FRANCE AIDS RADICALS

PARIS, Aug. 5.—Just before the chamber adjourned for the summer vacation it enacted by a considerable margin a new electoral reform bill re-establishing "scrutin d'arrondissement," an election procedure which is little understood by the average foreigner in France and, therefore, probably a complete enigma for the average foreigners outside France.

Americans may want to ask: What is this form of election? What change does it make? What effect is it likely to have on the French political situation? To discuss the possible result before going into the causes, it may be said that when the French national elections come next spring there will undoubtedly be gains by radical and Socialist parties and general strengthening of the left center group.

Socialist Ministry Possible
Everything will depend on how the domestic weather vane is then pointing, but observers recognize that this might even eventually cause the establishment of a left or Socialist ministry if the Poincaré government lasts that long, and if again events materialize spreading dissatisfaction with the regime in power. That is why Right parties have fought electoral reform and the scrutin d'arrondissement tooth and nail. That is also why Poincaré only bowed to the clamor for reform when he saw he could not oppose it without stirring more trouble than even that which is bound to be brewed by disgruntled Republicans and other Right parties with its adoption.

It is clearly recognized that the new system may give the government serious difficulties when the elections come. What then is this queer sounding political contraption, scrutin d'arrondissement? It is a direct system of election. It means representation of an arrondissement by one man as opposed to the election of several deputies in a larger unit representing a department, this latter system being called scrutin de liste. Scrutin de liste has been the vogue for more than eight years, but is a complicated affair which allows minority parties to combine against the stronger and thus snatch a few seats in various departments which they could not get by direct ballot.

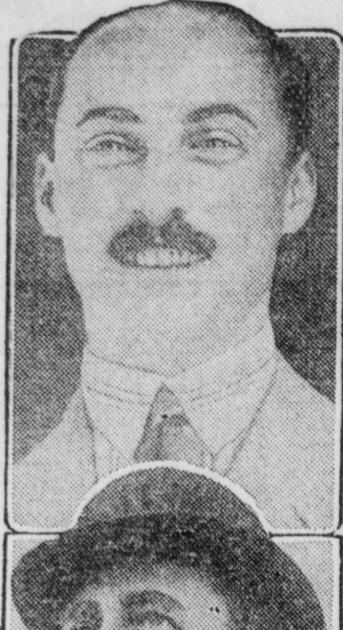

Long Campaign
As the left is able to swing a clear majority in many of these departments, it has waged a long campaign to get back to the direct vote of each arrondissement, which is similar in practice to the American electoral method. There can be no doubt that scrutin d'arrondissement will eliminate many of these complications and make the determining of results of the election much easier. But at the same time it will fan the wrath of weaker parties who have clung to their position by combinations possible under the old system.

Now a party able to garner the biggest number of votes will get the Deputies—and that can only mean an increase in the power of the left parties. How much of a gain will depend on

2-STORY BRICK BUILDING PLAN OF BEACH FIRM IS PROJECTED

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 5.—Interest in boating and yachting has increased to such an extent that Smith Brothers, dealers in marine hardware, plan an addition to their store calculated to make of the business a $50,000 concern.

A two-story brick building to cost $8000 figures in the plans. The structure will be built immediately south of the present store. It will have a 30-foot frontage on Bay avenue and 115 feet frontage on Washington street.

Stock estimated at $17,000 will be purchased to equip the new departments.

It is not planned to build the new building before January 1, but plans are being worked on and estimates prepared so that rapid progress can be made when the building is started.

SCHOOL BURGLAR FAILS IN ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM, Aug. 5.—Public discussion of the proposed new zoning ordinance for Anaheim and the effect it will have upon that section of the city north of West Center and west of North Los Angeles streets, known as ward two, was held at an informal meeting in the city hall rooms last night, with a large number of property owners in the district on hand.

Gordon Whithall and Dr. Carol Aronovici, members of the Los Angeles Planning commission, were on hand to assist Dr. Walter L. Bigham, chairman of the newly formed Anaheim planning body in discussing the proposed ordinance.

Last week a hearing was held for residents of the district north and east of town. Two more meetings of this nature are planned to completely cover the city, following which the tentative ordinance, as drawn up by the planning body, will be presented to the city council for action.

$50,000 DANA POINT BUILDING IS PROJECTED

DANA POINT, Aug. 5.—A $50,000 apartment house is to be built at Dana Point by Mrs. Pauline Eklund. It was designed by Charles A. Hill, architect, to resemble a beautiful Mediterranean villa.

"Mrs. Eklund's apartment house," declared George R. Hanlon, manager of Dana Point, "will be the finest example of California-renaissance architecture, applied to apartment house construction, on the Pacific coast.

Ground will be broken Monday and the Eklund apartment will be rushed to completion at the earliest possible moment.

The apartment house will be located on the corner of the street of the Ruby Lantern and San Marino place and will have the characteristic balconies, patios, terraces and walled gardens of the Latin architecture.

"When we started here two years ago we greatly underestimated the amount of business we could do," Steve Smith, one of the proprietors, said today.

FRENCH TO HEAR OF SOVIET PROPAGANDA

PARIS, Aug. 5.—Jean Herbette, French ambassador at Moscow, who recently spent two weeks in Paris, returned to his post bearing instructions that the Soviet government be informed that Communist propaganda in France is becoming intolerable to French public opinion. It was learned Wednesday.

Although the French foreign office says M. Herbette was not instructed to make official representations involving both governments in an exchange of notes, official circles are certain that he was to make the Soviet government cognizant in an unofficial manner of the sentiment of the French people and government. M. Herbette called upon Foreign Minister Tchicherin on the very day of his arrival back at Moscow.

Wells later refers to Esders' "congenial pursuit of discovering, seducing, exalting and throwing over every young and needy beauty of the middle class."

Referring to Stanley Baldwin, Wells has one of his characters, Philip Ryland, write in a letter to his wife:

"If, after all, there does happen to be a last judgment, Master Stanley will be put through it good and hard. 'Put that pipe down, sir,' a great flaming angel will say, 'we want to see your face.'

Regarding Winston Churchill, Ryland writes to his wife: "As might be expected, Winston has been as happy since he crawled gone clean off his head. He hasn't on his belly and helped to snipe in Sidney street. His career about sneering, inactive, gaping, crowded London looking for barricades."

POPE TO CONSTRUCT ANOTHER BUILDING

ROME, Aug. 5.—Pope Pius has decided to have a new building erected in the Vatican gardens to house part of the Vatican's famous picture gallery, according to Il Tevere. Architectural experts are said to have found one of the buildings containing the art treasures in bad condition and advised emptying it to avoid possibility of damage to the paintings.

SLAB 1682 YEARS OLD GOES TO PARIS

EXETER, Calif., Aug. 5.—A slab of a Sequoia Big Tree, measuring nine feet in diameter and 11 inches thick, will be presented to French war veterans by the American Legion of California, during the legion convention in Paris this fall.

The rings on the giant slab have been counted, indicating the tree was 1682 years old when it fell 12 years ago.

The slab will weigh more than a ton when crated for shipment.

Popular Barber Saved From Pen

PORTLAND, Aug. 5.—"Such popularity must be deserved," said the judge as King Jackson, 28, was led back to jail.

Jackson was to have been sentenced to the penitentiary following conviction for forgery but the entire force of the law sought to keep him in the county jail here.

The jailer, the prosecuting attorney, sheriff and all concerned wanted him so Judge George Tazwell sentenced Jackson to 10 months in the county jail here.

The answer is that Jackson is an excellent barber and had no objection to practicing his trade in jail.

Friends To Care For Canary Bird

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Thirty friends of Miss Anna Bird Stewart of Fifth avenue are to visit her canary at least once a week for three months while she is in Europe. Until friends obliged, the prospective loneliness of the canary, Johnny Doe, 15 years old, and blind in one eye, was a problem that threatened to cause the trip to be canceled.

Exhibits in domestic art, needlework, culinary and school art divisions of the women's department, incorporated in the enlarged Orange county fair program, Sept. 5 to 10, today were reported receiving attention from all corners of the district.

Mrs. H. J. Heinrich, of Orange, is in charge of culinary displays; Hazel Nell Bemus, of Santa Ana, school work and art craft; Mrs. W. H. Thomas, of Santa Ana, day nursery. Mrs. Alex P. Nelson, of Santa Ana, is in charge of the women's department.

Mrs. W. B. McConnell, of Santa Ana, directing the domestic arts and needlework exhibit named the following committees to assist in this department: Mrs. Kitty Smith of Fullerton; Mrs. M. E. Marshall, of Tustin; Mrs. Ruth Hobbs, of Orange; Mrs. G. E. Hatfield, of Tustin.

Women's civic clubs and organizations, including twenty representatives of the Orange county P.T.A. are canvassing districts in the interest of the fair, according to H. A. Lake, fair association head.

The fair program this year includes enlarged feature, agricultural, industrial, automotive and livestock exhibits and special entertainment provided by a horse show and rodeo, war demonstration, and a representative southern California Scout's lodge drill.

A department of fine arts, in which many Orange county artists will exhibit, has been created and will be under the direction of W. W. Riddell, of Laguna Beach. R. L. Bishop, of Santa Ana, is collecting objects for an antique and historical display, over which he has charge.

CAUSTIC PICTURE DRAWN BY WELLS

LONDON, Aug. 5.—A caustic picture of the 1927 edition of British peers is drawn by H. G. Wells, who depicts "Lord Edensor" who is "a bad man of nerve and muscle, blood and bone," with a glass of champagne and a cigar, saying:

"What this country wants is hard work."

Wells later refers to Esders' "congenial pursuit of discovering, seducing, exalting and throwing over every young and needy beauty of the middle class."

Referring to Stanley Baldwin, Wells has one of his characters, Philip Ryland, write in a letter to his wife:

"If, after all, there does happen to be a last judgment, Master Stanley will be put through it good and hard. 'Put that pipe down, sir,' a great flaming angel will say, 'we want to see your face.'

FEDERAL GRAND JURY LISTENS TO WITNESSES

Three Orange county men whose names have been linked with the Orange county liquor scandal, which resulted in the secret indictment of almost a score of persons, several weeks ago, were witnesses before the federal grand jury in Los Angeles again yesterday.

The investigation was suddenly re-opened when the jury met for the first time in several weeks. L. J. Heffner, former state traffic officer, under indictment, and B. W. Allen, and Frank Howell, Laguna Beach, were questioned.

No action was taken by the body yesterday however, it was said and the body disbanded last night to meet again in several days, it was enclosed approximately 60 square miles of harbor territory proved a check to further annexation by Los Angeles in that territory.

Taken by the Beach city under the state laws of 1913, suit was brought against the council of the city of Long Beach as defendants and respondents by A. C. Bowen, petitioner and appellant to nullify the annexation. Bruce Mason, Long Beach city attorney, represented the defendant, with Jess E. Stephens, city attorney of Los Angeles, appearing for the plaintiff.

In hearing the case the court ruled that inasmuch as the territory involved did not comply with the annexation laws of 1913, the project was illegal. Evidence in the case established that the "shoe string" was composed of 82 separate bodies and tracts of land, that no one lived on 72 of these parcels and that it was not contiguous to the city of Long Beach.

The ruling now leaves Virginia City and Hynes separated from Long Beach. They may, however, become part of that city through regular annexation proceedings.

Ugly Farm Gully Made Into Farm

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 5.—A gully is not simply a gully to State Forester R. S. Maddox. To him it is the prospective site of a grove of trees which may earn money for the farmer, halt the erosion of his lands and hide an unsightly spot.

For 12 years he has carried on a campaign of "gully camouflage" in which Tennessee has been unique among other states. His method is to blow off the gully banks, build a few bush dams to check the sliding soil and set out black locusts, a fast-growing tree with "fence-post" potentialities. Grasses and vines are also used.

SANTA ANA LODGE ACTIVITIESPYTHIAN KNIGHTS OF DISTRICT WILL MEET

Pythian Knights from over Orange county will hold a district meeting at the Santa Ana Pythian hall Wednesday evening, August 17, to honor W. W. Goodman, grand chancellor for the domain of California, in his only official visit to this section.

An elaborate program is being arranged under the supervision of the district council No. 21 of the county.

The Santa Ana lodge No. 149 will have an important part in entertaining the California grand chancellor. Plans were considered at the meeting held last night in the Knights of Pythias hall. J. A. Gilbert, also a supreme representative of the Pythian order of the state, was a visitor at the meeting of the lodge last night.

Native Daughters Install Officers

At a meeting of the Native Daughters of the Golden West held Wednesday evening in Getty hall, Mrs. Mamie Schonberg, district deputy, installed officers including Mrs. Genevieve Hiskey, second vice president; Pearl Reish, marshal; Mrs. Rose Ford, financial secretary, and Mrs. Stella Stiffler, organist.

Mrs. Mamie Schonberg, retiring president, was presented with a beautiful gold ring with aquamarine setting, during an address made by Mrs. Eunice Fox, first vice president, commanding Mrs. Schonberg for efficient and faithful service as president, district deputy, and in other capacities in Santa Ana parlor of Native Daughters.

Mrs. Schonberg responded, expressing thanks and appreciation for the estimation of the value of her services to the lodge as voiced by Mrs. Fox, and for the gift.

After the meeting a "kid party" and taffy pull was enjoyed by the members and amusing games were played.

FOUNDS GREAT ORDER

MISS BINA M.WEST

(By NEA Service) PORT HURON, Mich., Aug. 5—Thirty-five years ago Bina M. West's office equipment consisted of a basement room, one desk with a green baize top, one medium-sized wastebasket, one small letter file, and a capital of $150 borrowed dollars.

Today she presides over a large office building, erected right on the site of the old basement, with all the new-fangled office equipment she wants.

She is the supreme commander of a fraternal benefit society for women with a membership of a quarter of a million.

She has paid back the $150 she borrowed and the company she organized has assets totaling over 22 million dollars.

Back in the struggling days Miss West never so much as dreamed of the magnitude of the work she undertook.

She started out as a school teacher in the little village of Capac, Michigan, her birthplace. In reading, riting' and 'rithmeto to the young hopefuls of Michigan she was so eminently successful that she was selected to serve on the County School Board.

As if that were not sufficient expression of the confidence and appreciation of the community, she was then asked to speak at school meetings and community gatherings.

Once she spoke on insurance, as it appealed to her. Immediately she received a telegram from Major Nathan S. Boynton of Michigan, "Father of the Maccabees" in which he asked her to found an independent benefit insurance auxiliary for Illinois.

Miss West approached the offer with caution, and had many conferences with her mother before she exchanged her school work for the larger sphere of business.

She went with zeal into the matter, which was then a pioneer movement of providing fraternal insurance for women at the lowest possible rate.

Today there are nearly three thousand groups of Women's Benefit Association members, with club buildings, health centers, visiting nurse services, baby clinics, summer camps—and bank accounts.

Miss West has received signal honors, such as an Honorary Master of Arts Degree from Ann Arbor University. Her home state made her its first national Republican Committee-woman, and the National Fraternal Congress of America honored her with unanimous election as its first woman president in 1925.

"I believe in preparedness," she said, when asked for a little advice to others who might want to follow her successful example. "Not in the sense that it is generally used, but in the matter of education.

"Half of the trouble with aspiring young persons lies in the fact that they are not equipped with sufficient education and do not appreciate the necessity of absolute rock bottom ground to make them thorough and concentrative.

"Nothing can be accomplished without effort. Nothing can be accomplished by any group without loyalty and cooperation. These are inseparable, but the greatest of all is loyalty."

SPANISH VETS INDUCT PAIR INTO OFFICES

Two veterans were inducted into the Santa Ana Calumet camp No. 26, United Spanish War Veterans at a well attended meeting held last Tuesday night in the Pythian hall. These men, Cyrus F. Brown and Charles Blauburn served in 1898 with the New York and Nebraska companies.

Comrades Deck and Nourse, delegates and alternate to the National Encampment of Spanish War Veterans to be held in Detroit will leave here about August 24, accompanied by the department commander, Charles E. Dixon, of Santa Ana, it was announced.

The California delegation will distribute oranges at the convention parade, according to plans.

Regret was expressed at the report that Walter C. Burris, a charter member of the camp, has been advised by his physician to take a year's sojourn in the mountains. Burris has been an active worker in veteran circles.

The camp will hold a social on the night of August 12 at their hall. The ladies of the auxiliary will be entertained as guests in celebration of the fifth anniversary of the organization of the camp, according to details of the arrangements disclosed by J. C. Farra, officer of the day of the United Spanish War Veterans.

THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE:

By Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge. Copyright, 1923-26.

The attempt to link East and West by a northern passage finally was consummated by Adolf Eric Nordenskiöld, a Finn. It was the northeast passage which finally yielded. After two voyages along the north Asian coast to the Yenisei, Nordenskiöld proved the Kara Sea was navigable. After being held up 264 days in ice, he sailed through Bering Strait July 18, 1879, and across the ocean to Yokohama.

After Nordenstjöld came Amundsen, and the Northeast Passage surrendered its secret to him in 1906. Amundsen pushed west across Baffin Bay and through Lancaster Sound.

In the spring of 1903 Amundsen sailed from Christiania, Norway. He pushed west across Baffin Bay and through Lancaster Sound.

His route led through Barrow Strait, down to Peel Sound, along the De la Roquette Islands, past the magnetic North Pole, then east of King William Land, with men sounding the uncharted waters the whole time. For two years he was held in Simpson's Strait. His task seemed impossible when winter stayed him again at King's Point in Mackenzie Bay.

The smokestack, made of pepper mint, had melted to a mixed-up tint. The ship itself was spreading out upon the whipped cream sea. The sun kept shining mighty hot. The Tinymites knew that, like as not, in a half hour or maybe less, in trouble they would be.

Across the Taffy Clowny ran, shouting, "Where's the Taffy Man?" I'll bet he'd help us if he knew our boat was fading out. There's nothing left now but the rim of our good ship. We'll have to swim. I wonder if 'twould do much good if we would stand and shout."

Then Scouty said, "Let's try that plan, and yell as loudly as we can. Perhaps someone will hear us and will save us from the sea." So, up they stood, this frightened crowd, and all of them yelled, right out loud, "Please help this bunch of Tinymites. We're scared as we can be."

Just then the whipped cream, tight at hand, began to foam to land

The WOMAN'S DAY

by ALLENE SUMNER

The great summer imposition on the country folks is on! In fact, it has been on since the pie plant appeared way back in the spring.

Perhaps it is because of my own buccolic ancestors that I see the problem of the country folks so clearly, and sympathize with them.

Well do I remember as a child being at Granpa's farm on a Sunday when the relatives descended upon him to cart away pounds and pounds of sweet butter that gran'ma had packed all ready with her clover leaf stamp upon it to take to market the next day.

They took granpa's apples and cherries and berries and new peas and string beans and potatoes and hickory nuts and chestnuts and left their orders for potatoes and corn and apples and hams for the winter. Granpa knew that they had no notion of ever paying him, though they implied that they were "buying."

SELFISH

The attitude of the city person to the country person is almost beyond my understanding. I have tried and tried to get their slant on the farmer—their idea as to how he makes his living. But it's beyond me. I don't believe they even think about him, or care. All they care about it gathering up for selfish use some of the bounty of field and orchard which they see all about them. They take it for granted that they should have their share.

"My, you certainly do have it nice!" they remark, gobbling fruit and drinking creamy milk, whilst quoting the prices that "we have to pay in town for one little apple and even a quarter of a pint of cream."

If anyone should tell them that the farmer's fruit represents actual years of labor with no return, and that the year's crop is his first reward for these years of labor, years when the city people were getting their Saturday night pay envelope regularly, still they would haven't had a new dress in five years. The boarders help a little, but it's hard work with the children. I could take six more boarders if I didn't have them."

"I don't want to make trouble," she said, "but it's hard. What with taxes and a new silo and the rain last year, we came out just $50 ahead and had to go into debt for seed and a few clothes. I could mention."

Frowning Sure Way To Lose Beauty

By MME. ANNE GERARDE
For N.E.A. Service

Frowns can spoil the prettiest face and always are unpleasant. For they are associated with ugly, cross dispositions.

As a matter of fact poor eyes, defective hearing, worry and too great concentration on a subject may all contribute their quota.

Decide what causes you to frown and overcome the habit if possible. Then follow this instruction to get rid of the wrinkles between the eyes that frowning so often brings.

Press out the wrinkles by ironing with the first fingers of both hands, used alternately in quick, hard upward strokes. Always use cold cream for lubrication when massaging.

At night wear frowners, small triangular bits of court-plaster which you can buy or cut yourself. Apply, after you have massaged for five or ten minutes, with the wide part between the eyebrows and the point towards the nose.

JUST A JIGGLE
Despite her baby eyes of blue,
No spirit did she lack.
She balled her bloomin' husband
out
And now her eyes are black.

OUR SCHOOL'S BIG PROBLEM

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Language is a peculiar thing. English as it is spoken and English as it should be spoken may be two entirely different matters today, but a century or two centuries hence the latter may be on borrowed terms with the former at least, if not accepting it altogether.

Authority is authority, but it is helpless in the hands of general usage. And the persistent use of an idiom, a bit of slang, an abbreviation, or a really ungrammatical construction will undoubtedly make it correct if given time enough.

Our standard English is a mongrel at best. Every invasion of Britain left its mark. The Romans gave us the words with Latin roots even before Caesar conquered Gaul.

The Gauls themselves left their mark in the Irish "Gaelic" when they conquered that island.

Later, we are well informed, the Normans left a decided French impression on the rather crude Anglo-Saxon tongue after William the Conqueror decided to change his residence to English shores.

Recently at a conference on the English language George Bernard Shaw and others, including teachers, writers and critics, both English and American, decided that Britons and Americans were doing shameful things to the mother tongue.

One hears that they were "more prolific in sighs and alases than in suggestions of a remedy."

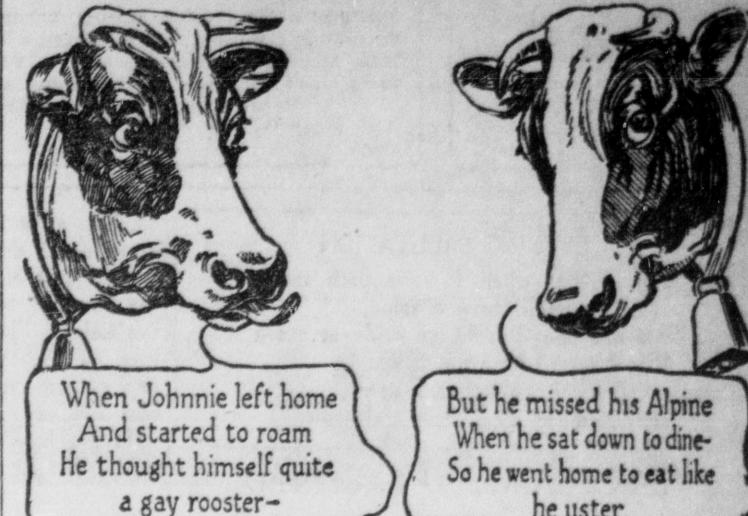

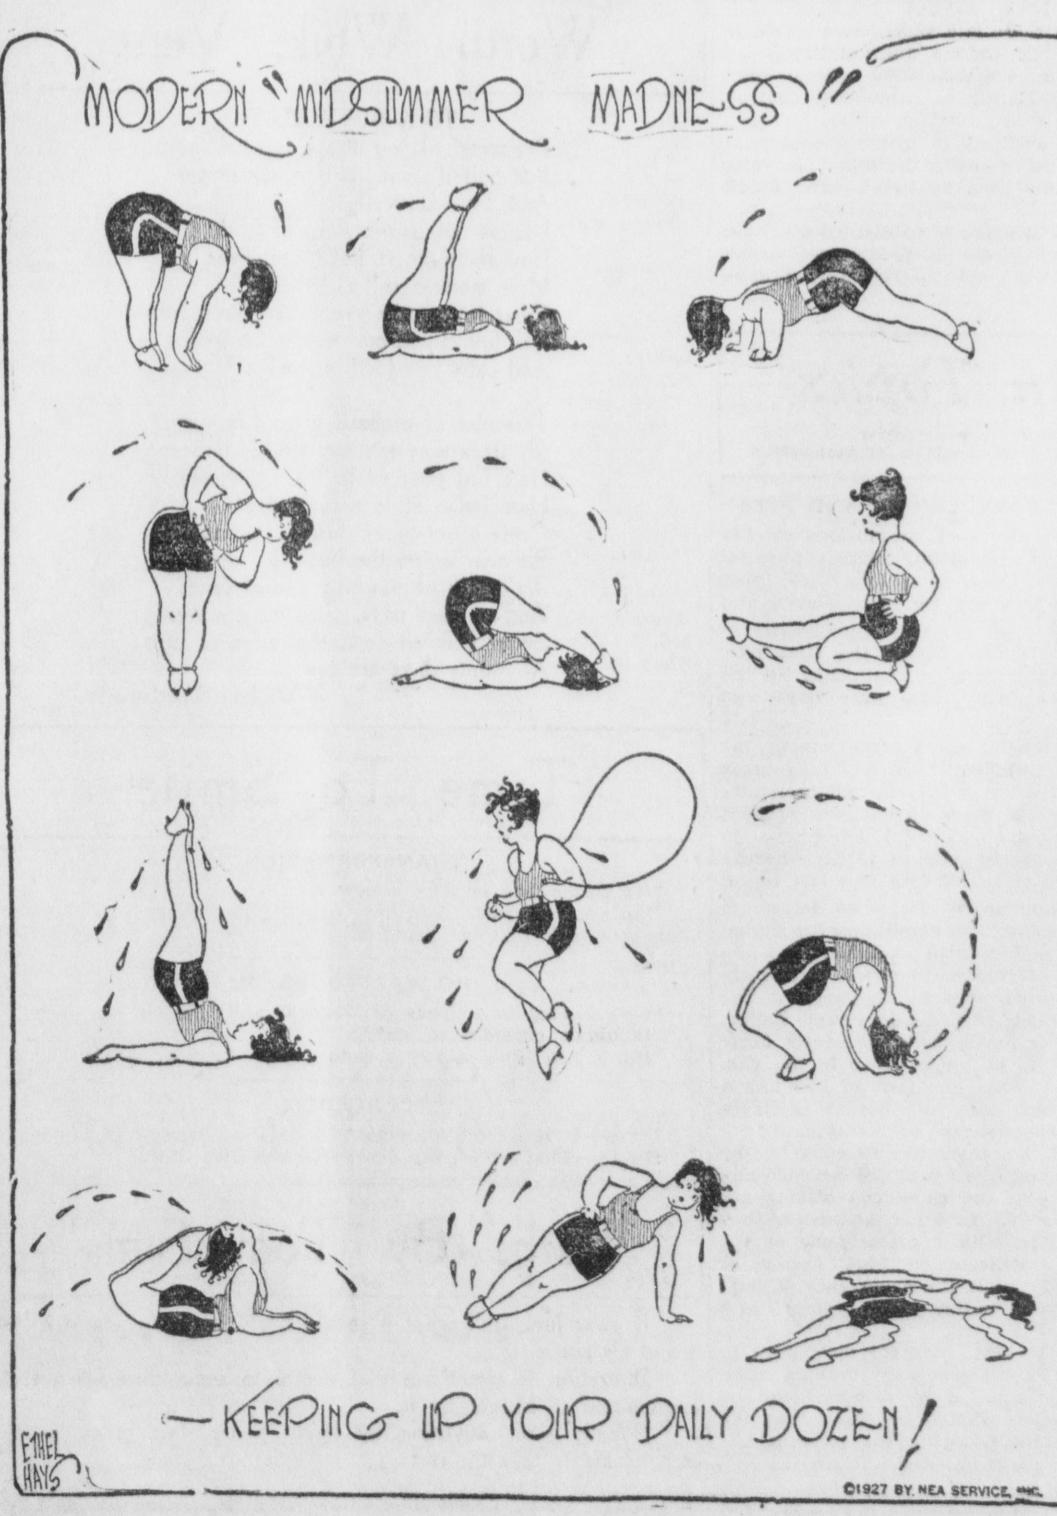

It is not wonder! What can they do? History is only repeating itself. Except that in America, instead of two or four invasions, we have yearly invasions of dozens of nationalities. The wonder of it is that American-English, or English-American, is as pure as it is. Does not the credit go to our schools?
